Congress Gets Bill On Health

Would Cost $6 Billions

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Legislation to carry out President Truman's far-reaching health program was introduced in Congress today.

The bill calls for payroll-tax insurance to provide medical, hospital and dental care for about 120,000,000 Americans at a sponsor-estimated cost of around $6,000,000,000 a year.

The administration measure also would put into effect all the other phases of Mr. Truman's program.

Those include federal grants for medical education, hospital construction, public health services and research. The bill also authorizes an experimental program of federal aid to farmers' health cooperatives.

GOP STEERS CLEAR

A sponsors' statement accompanying the bill was signed by Senator Elbert D. Thomas (D-Utah), chairman of the senate labor and public welfare committee; by Senators Murray (D-Mont.) Wagner (D-NY), Pepper (D-Gala) Chavez (D-NM). Taylor (D-Idaho), McGrath (R-RI), Humphrey (D-Minn), and by Reps. Dingell (D-Mich) and Biemiller (D-Dis.

Not a single Republican's name was on the list of sponsors.

Sponsors estimated annual cost of the health insurance plan at about $6,000,000,000 a year,, most of which would come from a three per cent tax on payrolls, split between workers and employers.

Federal aid for construction of hospitals would be doubled under the bill, going from the present $75,000,000 a year to $150,000,000.

A program for training practical nurses would cost $15,000,000 annually while $10,000,000 the first year and $15,000,000 each of the next four would be available to farmers' health cooperatives.

A new child life research program would get $10,000,000 the first year and "the sums necessary thereafter to carry out the program." Grants and loans totalling $35,000,000 the first year would be authorized to encourage doctors and nurses to settle in rural and other shortage areas.

To push medical education, existing medical schools would get $300 for each student enrolled on the basis of average past enrollment, plus $1,700 for each student above that average.

Congressional hearings on the bill are expected to start soon and last several weeks. There probably will be no final action on the legislation until next year.

Under the bill, the national health insurance program would not go into effect until July 1, 1951,

T-H Battle Opens Today

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The long-awaited battle over repeal of the Taft-Hartley law opens in Congress today with House Republicans caucusing to determine their position.

The Republican conference is preliminary to the actual opening of debate tomorrow in the House. General debate is expected to continue through Wednesday, with voting on amendments getting underway Thursday.

The final vote may come Friday. On the other hand, if the repeal bill can not be completed Friday, the final vote may be postponed until Monday or Tuesday.

House Republicans met to discuss whether to throw their support behind the Wood hill, a substitute for the administration legislation approved by the House labor committee.

The substitute bill introduced under the name of Rep. Wood (D) Ga., was drawn up by a coalition of Republican and southern Democratic leaders. But it is considered unlikely that the GOP leadership would attempt to bind its membership to support it.

Work Resumes

COLUMBUS — (U.P.) — Work resumed on construction projects here today as 5,000 men returned to their jobs following settlement of a week-long strike by members of AFL Hod Carriers, Laborers and Painters.

Sunday Crap Game Goes Full Blast In Central Park Room

Train To Pass Blockade

FRANKFURT — (UP) — The Russians eased the Berlin blockade minutely today by giving permission for a Swiss food train to pass through the Soviet zone to this city.

Swiss authorities announced the Soviet decision amid persistent reports that the Russians were seeking a way to lift the Berlin blockade without loss of prestige.

A Swiss spokesman said the train was a one-shot project, and so far as he knew had nothing to do with the rumors that the blockade might be removed.

It was a year ago this month that the Russians imposed rigid highway and rail restrictions on shipments from the western zones to Berlin. On June 24, all rail traffic was forbidden, and the airlift began.

The Swiss spokesman said the train was scheduled to leave Basle today, and would pass through the American zone en route to Berlin through the Soviet zone.

It will carry food supplies to the Swiss mission in Berlin and evacuate some 400 Swiss children and 75 adults from Berlin on the return trip, scheduled for Thursday.

U. S. officials said there would be no problem in crossing the American zone, except that transit charges would have to be paid in American dollars.

Man Behind Glass Checks 'Customers'

Some Players Place Bets Up to $20

Mansfield's biggest and best crap game, allowed to operate unmolested by police under the non - enforcement - of-gambling-laws policy of Mayor Roy W. Vaughn and Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab, rolled merrily on into the small hours of Sunday morning.

Its headquarters at 23½ North Park street, diagonally across Central Park from the city's only bookie joint, have been familiar to Mansfielders for many months. It's only three and a half blocks from City hall and one block from the county prosecutor's office.

To get in you simply walk up the stairway, push the button where a sign reads: "Please Ring Bell," and submit to brief scrutiny by a man behind the glass.

Just inside the door there is a room with a half dozen chairs and a dining room table with the windows facing the square covered with venetian blinds.

Then you go around a wooden partition, blocking a direct view of the gaming table from the door, and there is a large dice table with four croupiers attending the game.

4 MEN AT TABLE

It is a big table. It needs four men to handle all the bets placed. About eight feet long and over four feet wide, the table had places for "line" and "come" bets at each end, and the "hardways" and "odds-on" bets section was in the center.

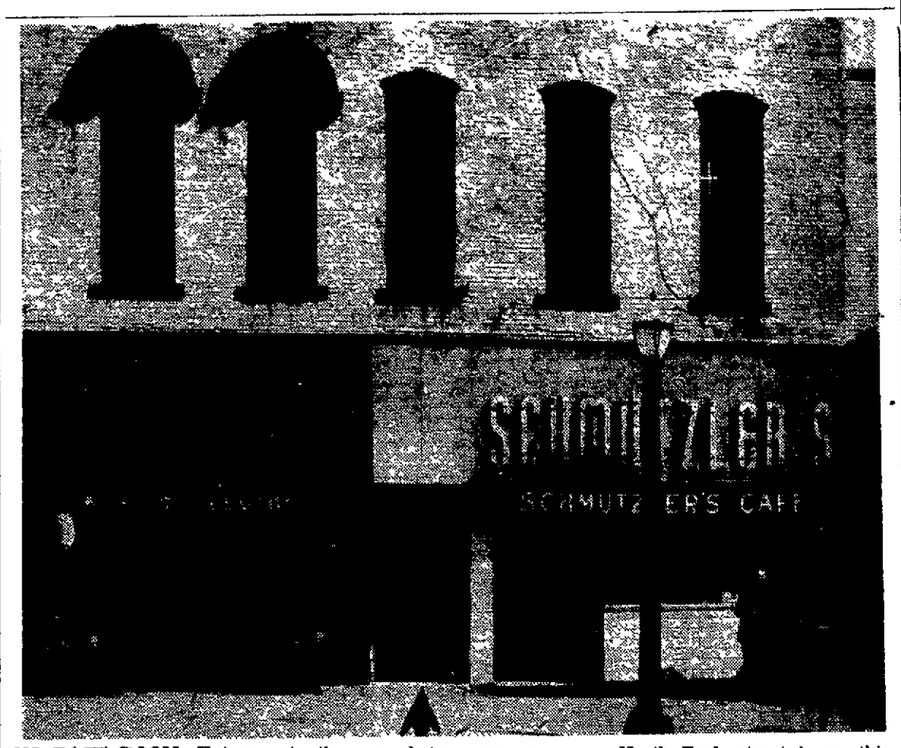
A large, muscular man, with distinguished steel gray hair and a big cigar drooping from his mouth, was running the game early Sunday. Seven or eight were playing, placing bets of from one to 20 dollars. Customers were greeted with: "There's always room for one more!"

It's a nice game, too, you can play for as little as a dollar a throw, and nobody kicks when you pull your bet after making a pass or two.

A new player, one of the boys don't recognize right away, will be scrutinized rather closely, but once he has some of that "folding stuff" in sight, everybody is all smiles.

One particular player of the "seven come - eleven" game played the "come out on eleven" bet frequently (it pays 16 to one), and was just about breaking even.

Outside of the man who thought he could "come out on eleven," everybody else was playing "line" and "come" bets. Play was active and the game netted about $150 in an hour.



NO BACK ROOM—Entrance to the second-story crap game on North Park street is up this stairway (arrow at bottom of picture) facing Central park. The rooms which overlooks Central park, was filled with players early Sunday and money was changing hands rapidly.

Key Witness Kept Secret

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The house un - American activities committee bundled a key witness in secrecy today in its search for communist agents. It concentrated on the American Slav congress and CIO-United Electrical Workers union (UE).

The committee took this turn after releasing, over the weekend, copies of documents and sworn testimony that the Polish embassy here was used for communist spying.

A committee official said it was necessary to withhold any advance identification of one of three "friendly" witnesses in order to protect him. This witness was said to have turned on the communist party after having once been a card-carrying member.

The committee called in Judge Blair F. Gunther of the common pleas court of Pittsburgh to give it a hand in investigating the Slav congress. Gunther was one of its early leaders but dropped out in 1944 after word began getting around that reds had infiltrated the organization.

Harry A. Sherman, a former lawyer for several UE local unions in Pittsburgh, was listed as the third friendly witness.

Dubs Shelling 'A Blunder'

LONDON — (UP) — Winston Churchill leveled charges against the labor government today that it had blundered in sending warships up the Yangtze river in China, where they were hit by Chinese communist shore guns that killed 40 men.

The general charges were that the ill-fated sloop Amethyst should not have been sent up the river and that if the trip was absolutely necessary air cover should have been provided.

The government's explanation of the affair will be submitted to the House of Commons tomorrow when it reconvenes after an Easter recess.

Slots Seized

EAST LIVERPOOL — (U.P.) — Three men were arrested early today when a raiding party, led by Police Chief Leroy J. Wise, pushed its way into two clubs. Four slot machines and 13 cases of beer were seized, Chief Wise said.

Delay Filing Of Charges

Police Probing Shooting Case

Funeral rites were set today for Mrs. May Roberts, 39, of 374 Marshall avenue, who was fatally shot in her home early Saturday, while her 21-year-old husband, Frank Roberts jr., was held without bond in city jail in connection with the shooting.

Mrs. Roberts died of a bullet wound through her right arm and chest. The shooting which occurred in the family home was reported at 3:27 a. m. Saturday during a family reunion at the Roberts home.

A high-powered hunting rifle was found in the kitchen by police.

Police Chief Jesse J. Schwab said disposition of the case will be made this afternoon. Detectives said if charges are filed against Roberts the youthful husband will be arraigned in municipal court Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Roberts was born June 14, 1909 in Brooks, Ga., and came to Mansfield 25 years ago. She was a member of the Shiloh Baptist church.

Surviving, besides her husband, are one son, Archie Smith, with the army on Guam; two brothers, Jessie Langford and Henry Langford of Chicago; and four sisters, Mrs. Ethel Banks of Chicago; Mrs Cathella Glass of Los Angeles and Mrs. Maude Smitherman and Mrs. Ismar Connally, both of Detroit.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Geiger funeral home where friends may call. Rev. A. J. Payne, pastor of the Shiloh Baptist church, will officiate and burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

SET WEDDING DATE

PARIS — (INS) — The Daily Paris Presse reported today that movie star Rita Hayworth and fabulously wealthy Prince Aly Kahn plan to marry on May 15.

Empire Workers Give $600

Cancer Fund Drive Lagging In City

As the campaign to raise $18,000 for cancer control in Mansfield entered its second and final week today, a total of only $1,327 was reported by campaign headquarters.

The drive got a shot in the arm late Saturday when the employes and management of the Empire Steel corporation contributed a check for $600.

Of the total amount raised to date, $727 was reported by the commercial division, headed by Charles A. Hand, and $600 by the industrial division, headed by co-chairmen Frank Berkey and John Schroeder.

Meanwhile C. N. McGrew, county agricultural agent, announced the United States Department of Agriculture's extension service is cooperating with the American Cancer society's educational program in helping farm people become aware of the dangers of cancer.

McGrew said a recent national survey showed farm people were the least informed of all occupational groups about cancer.

He added farmers should have as much interest in fighting cancer as anyone else. McGrew said getting the facts about cancer to the people is one of the most important objectives of the American Cancer society, and added the extension service was ready to help in every possible way.

Child Dies In Abandoned Well

MERTENS, Tex. — (AP) — An abandoned water well on a vacant lot claimed the life of a six-year-old child yesterday.

The body of Thomas Britton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Britton of Mertens, was pulled from the well about two hours after he had tumbled into it while picking flowers with playmates.

Mrs. FDR Hits Soviet

FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. Y. — (INS) — Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt rebuked the soviet union in the United Nations today for refusing to permit Russian wives of foreigners to join their husbands abroad.

In addressing the 58-nation assembly, reconvened after a week of committee discussions at Lake Success, Mrs. Roosevelt said the United States firmly supports a Chilean resolution which censures the Russians for not allowing their native women to accompany foreign husbands out of Russia.

Mrs. Roosevelt, one of the five key delegates of the American team, said the case is one of "detaining people in a country against their will apparently because they happen to be married to persons of a certain nationality."

Sen. Arthur Vandenberg (R) Mich., drew cheers on his arrival. He sat alongside of her as a guest of the American delegation.

Party Leader Dies

GALLIPOLIS — (AP) — John Ernest Halliday, sr., 80, retired merchant and a Democratic party leader in Gallipolis for nearly 40 years, died today.

Lewis Bares 10 Demands

Sets Basis For Negotiations

WASHINGTON — (UP) — John L. Lewis today submitted to the United Mine Workers wage policy committee 10 general contract demands on which to base the union's 1949 bargaining strategy

The first two demands as set down by the union's 1948 convention called for "further improvements" in the welfare and retirement fund, and increases in wages and reductions in hours.

Lewis was asked to get the operators' welfare fund contributions increased from 20 to 40 cents a ton and to obtain a 30-hour work week.

Other demands asked by the 1948 convention's resolutions include a contract with a guaranteed annual wage or working time.

These include requests for $15 a day, $75 a week for 52 weeks; guaranteed work for 260 days a year, and pay for 200 days a year whether worked or not.

These are expected to be the most controversial issues between the union and the soft coal industry in negotiations leading to a new agreement to replace the contract expiring June 30. The union is expected to ask for talks by June 1, or even earlier.

The other general demands include improved safety conditions and adjustment of vacation, holiday and severance compensation.

Avert Strike At Packard

DETROIT — (AP) — Eleventh-hour peace talks, that continued even after picket lines were set up, prevented a shutdown of the big Packard Motor Car company plant early today.

Some 9,000 Packard workers who had been alerted for a strike starting at midnight Sunday were told by CIO United Auto Workers officers to report on their regular shifts.

Settlement of assorted differences between the company and union was achieved by a group of representatives of both sides. They wrote an agreement on 16 disputed points. Wages were not an issue.

Weatherman's Batting Average Low

Mansfield Shivers In Wintry Blasts

The weatherman's batting average dropped a notch today after yesterday's cold, gray, rainy weather.

For the second weekend in succession he had predicted a sunny Sunday, but came through with just the opposite. Yesterday's cold didn't annoy Mansfielders as much as the Easter Sunday sleet, however.

Early rising Mansfielders saw the heavy frost that covered most of Ohio last night when the temperature dropped to the 30-degree mark. First reports did not indicate it was sufficient to cause any serious crop damage.

Today's sunny skies and warmer temperatures were in sharp contrast to yesterday's cold.

The weatherman, undaunted by past slip-ups, predicted temperatures in the 60's for today and with 49 degrees recorded at 10:30 a. m. it seemed he might be right. Showers are expected to fall by tonight and through tomorrow.

Rainfall in the 24 hours ended at 7:30 a. m. today was recorded at Municipal airport at .05 of an inch. Yesterday's high temperature was 44 degrees at 12:30 a. m. and today's low, 30 at 6:30 a. m.

Backing Cow Vaccinates Veterinarian

DELAWARE—(AP)—A cow vaccinated Dr. W. R. Reed, a veterinarian, in a strange barnyard accident yesterday.

Today the veterinarian was under care of a physician. He was being treated for severe reaction to an overdose of brucellosis (undulant fever) vaccine—25 times the normal dosage for a human.

Here's what happened: As Dr. Reed prepared to inoculate the cow on the Ross Smouthers farm near here, the cow backed against the veterinarian.

The needle of his vaccine-loaded syringe pierced the palm of his hand. Before he could remove the needle, bossy backed again and it was plunged deeper. Dr. Reed got the full injection.

Forces Way Into Auto, Robs Driver

Armed Bandit Sought By Sheriff, Police

An unidentified man who forced his way into a car at Sixth and Main streets at 12:30 a. m. today and demanded at gun-point that the motorist "Keep on going, brother!" was sought today by sheriff's deputies and city police.

Fred O. Ickert, 34 Winwood drive, driver of the car, told officers the bandit took $15 from his pocket while he was driving.

Ickert told The News-Journal he had stopped for the traffic light at the intersection when a strange man opened the car door and slid into the seat beside him, brandishing a gun.

"Just keep on going, brother," Ickert said the bandit warned. "And if you don't keep on driving, I'll pull this trigger."

Ickert said the stranger ordered him to drive out Springmill street to the Country club road where he was ordered to turn into Hanna road.

"When I turned on Hanna road, the car got stuck in the mud and I told him I couldn't go any farther," Ickert related.

"He told me to move over and that he would drive. So I got out of my side of the car and when he moved over I tried to grab him. He ducked and got out of the car. We got into a schuffle but I slipped in the mud and fell to my knees. When I got up he had run away."

Ickert said he walked back to Bowman street and hailed a motorist, Edward Percy, 17, of 501 Forest drive. Percy drove Ickert to the sheriff's office where he reported the robbery. Police were also notified and began an investigation of the case.

9 In Family Die as Train Crashes Truck

GORDONSVILLE, Tenn. — (U.P.) —Ten persons—nine of them from the same family — were killed near here late last night when a freight train smashed into their truck as they were returning home from a revival meeting.

One other person, a 16-year-old girl neighbor of the family, was injured seriously.

The tragedy all but wiped out the family of Jess Bennett, 50, a prominent tobacco farmer of the Gordonsville community.

Bennett, the driver of the truck, and eight other members of his clan were killed instantly when a Tennessee Central frieght train demolished his vehicle at a crossing about two miles from here about 11 p. m. (EST) as the family returned from revival services.

A neighbor, 17-year-old Miss Lennie Gibbs, died of injuries a short time later. Another neighbor, 16-year-old Ruth Robinson, was in serious condition from hurts suffered in the crash.

Other members of the family, riding in another car, watched horror-stricken as the freight train plowed into the truck and dragged it 300 yards down the track before grinding to a halt.

Strong Earthquake Recorded 'South'

CLEVELAND—(UP)—The John Carroll university seismograph today recorded a "strong" earthquake some 4030 miles south of Cleveland.

The university said the quake, which it called as strong as the one which rocked the Pacific northwest last week, apparently was located near the border between Peru and Bolivia. The first wave was recorded at 10:05 a. m. and the second at 10:13 a. m.

SHANGHAI — (UP) — The U. S. Navy and wealthy Chinese started getting out of Shanghai today as it awaited the communist invader and a peace movement to keep the great city from becoming a battleground was reported gaining momentum.

Rear Admiral George C. Crawford, U. S. naval commander in Shanghai waters, announced that his dozen or so ships were moving to the lower reaches of the Yangtze, about eight miles north of Shanghai, to offset any chance of being trapped in the narrow waters of the Whangpoo river.

The navy urged the 2,479 Americans in Shanghai to board the ships and get out while the getting was good. Those who stay were warned that they would have no protection at all by U. S. forces.

Somewhere to the west vast communist forces, victory-flushed with the easy seizure of Nanking maneuvered for the payoff push against this city called "the pearl of the Orient."

A tour of the western environs of the city showed no sign of any big scale or determined plans for opposing the prospective onrush of the communists. Beyond the western outskirts many grass - covered pillboxes, built months ago, stood abandoned and useless.

American ships in Shanghai include the El Dorado, flagship of Vice Admiral Oscar C. Badger, commander of U.S. forces in the western pacific. Others are the hospital ship Repose, the destroyer Duncan and the troop transport Chilton, now used as quarters for 700 U. S. third marines.

SHANGHAI — (AP) — Red armies aimed a lightning blow toward the sea at Hangchow today hoping to trap 300,000 nationalist troops below Shanghai.

Other communist forces, which took Nanking yesterday without effort, were reported 19 miles from Shanghai.

Shanghai's 5,000,000 inhabitants fear the great Asiatic commercial center would go over to the communists without a fight, just as Nanking did Sunday morning.

Seymour Topping, associated press correspondent in Nanking, reported the former nationalist capital received the communists quietly at 3:20 a. m. Sunday, Nanking time.

The communists took their stations before some foreign embassies and all government buildings and utilities in Nanking. No guards were placed before the American embassy, however. Government planes tried to destroy gasoline and ammunition dumps at the Nanking airport. Communist spokesmen said they overshot their mark and their machine-gun bullets injured some Nanking children at play.

Face Trial In Slaying

TOKYO —(INS)— Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today that two soldiers of the U. S. air force will go on trial on Guam Thursday, charged with the rape-murder of Ruth Farnsworth.

The defendants are Privates Herman P. Dennis jr., of Calvert, Tex., and Calvin Dennis of Frederick, Md.

The announcement said a third suspect, Staff Sgt. Robert W. Burns of Spokane, Wash., will be tried separately later.

The Dennis brothers will be tried before an air force court martial.

Miss Farnsworth, a beautiful San Francisco girl working as a typist for the navy on Guam, was slain last December 11th after being criminally assaulted. Her body was found in a jungle patch behind a souvenir shop where she was a part-time night employe.

Beloved Wallace Beery Started On Road to Fame as Chorus Boy

Startles you to learn rugged Wally Beery began his career as a chorus boy. He was a star for 35 years. Quite a monument.

Not even the gunplay in cowboy sagas is louder than the scenarios' death rattles.

The theatre hasn't developed any new clowns who can come close to Bobby Clark's style of hell-raising.. Is patriotism a temporary thing. Most of the theatres have dispensed with the wartime habit of playing the National Anthem.

With baseball and racing parks bidding for Spring coin, several shows are attempting to survive the biz dip via cut-rate tix. A half-dozen others are due to hit the road soon.

Tip to ghouls: "The Life of Riley" film is a coma-dy dealing with hilarious subjects like inability to pay grocery bills or the rent. An undertaker is tossed in for "laughs." Ugh. . ."South Pacific" script is so slick, the show would be a dramatic click sans its superb melodies.

Pop music styles change more frequently than milady's bonnets. However, rhumba tempos continue to maintain their popularity. . . Explanations of bop by disc-jox are murkier than the sky over Pittsburgh. Music doesn't need explanations. Whether or not it beguiles the ears is all that matters.

The revival of "Wizard of Oz" offers another opportunity to enjoy Judy Garland putting the gleam in the melodic sparkler, "Over the Rainbow".

You never saw jollier audiences than those co-starring with Ray Bolger in "Where's Cholly?" They join him in rendering the eardorable "One in Love with Army". . In the current show the Rockettes have added a delightful soft-shoe routine to their show-stopping high-kicks. . .Tapper-topper in the Astair-Rogers "Barkleys of Broadway" is the "Manhattan Downbeat" finale. A wow finish.

The gourds and slap-slap instruments were never more melodic than in Jose Morand's recording of "Brazilian Rhapsody"

Cedric Hardwicke's furious mouthful about radio and television: "It is better to be killed in an atomic explosion than to have the human mind gradually deteriorating in the home."

Just apply ice to your fevered brow, Cedric, ole chep, and you'll feel much better . . . Odd but true: Road companies of Broadway hits attract more loot than the New York troupe.

Success Arrives But Hildegarde Retains Her Religious Standard

AT 16, HILDEGARDE Loretta Sell played the piano in a silent movie house in Milwaukee.

She was a plump, earnest, religious German girl, who hoped for something better.

Today, 27 years later, Hildegarde is a svelte internationally-known supper club entertainer who has perhaps kissed more bald pates in public than any lady in history.

She has dropped the Loretta Sell from her name. But success hasn't made her lose the best qualities of Loretta Sell. She is still earnest, religious—and hoping for something better.

She retains a girlhood characteristic that most artists have who stay at the top in their field, an inexorable desire for self-progress.

"I still take piano lessons, because the piano is my life," she said.

"I have always wanted to play wonderfully well. Right now I'm doing the classics. I'm learning a concerto. I hope to be able to do it by 1951 with the San Francisco Symphony orchestra. They've invited me."

Devoting her spare time for two and a half years to learn a 42-page concerto perfectly doesn't seem like too much struggle to her. Struggle has made her a perfectionist.

She told me something of her life and hard times as we sat in the living room of her luxurious seven-room suite at the Plaza hotel. It is the kind of suite she used to see flash on the movie screen in the days when she thumped out background music.

Hildegarde became one of the highest-priced supper club and radio entertainers after a dreary and low-paid apprenticeship. She worked in vaudeville, song-plugging, and a girl band. She trouped in London and Paris night spots.

The woman who helped work out her successful formula of wit, glamor, sentimentality—and special lighting effects—is Anna Sosenko, one of the shrewdest managers in show business.

"There was a time in Paris when I was broke," said Hildegarde, "and I would have given anything for $99 to pay my passage home. Half of me said give up, but half of me said stay. And I guess the half that wanted me to stay and keep on trying was really three quarters."

Twice a night now she descends to the Plaza's Persian room, where she has been starred for 11 years.

"I still get terribly filled up with butterflies just before I go out on the floor," she said. "But I say a quick prayer."

For an hour she whisks about, running a comb through her blonde topknot, fluttering a lacy handerchief, playing the piano with her gloves on, trading sophisticated repartee with patrons, and singing sentimental love ballads.

Hildy has a mind well-stocked with pleasant squelches to silence sideliners who want to stay in the spotlight too long.

"An entertainer has to have authority over the audience," she smiled. "You can't afford to lose control."

One reason for Hildy's popularity is her ability to kiss a middle-aged man on his bald pate and send him back to his table feeling like a colt. Or to give a teen-age youngster a motherly peck on the cheek and make him feel years older.

Someone once said the secret of Hildy's success was the fact she made "sex look funny."

"How else can sex look in a public place?" she asked.

The only unfulfilled ambition Hildegarde has is to be a painter, "and I would be one if there were ten more hours in the day."

Gun Carrier Bound To Grand Jury

Police Nab Man In N. Main Tavern

Charles Butler Harris, 21, of 244½ North Main street, pleaded guilty to a charge of carrying concealed weapons when he appeared in municipal court today and was bound to the grand jury under $500 bond.

He was arrested at 9:30 p. m. Sunday at a North Main street tavern when police discovered he was armed with a .32 caliber revolver.

Charged with assault and battery, Russell Zinn, 107 Harper street, pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs. Charges were filed by Christian A. Zentler.

For resisting arrest, Homer Boggs, 345 Springmill street, was fined $15 and costs. He was fined an additional $10 and costs on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

Anthony Mance, 309 East Second street, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery, but the hearing was continued when the complaining witness, Roberta Mance, failed to appear in court. Mance is being held under $500 bond.

Charges of assault and battery and reckless driving were filed against Clifford E. Tittle, Ashland R. D. 4, as an outgrowth of an accident that occurred four miles northeast of here on U. S. Route 42 at 1:14 a. m. yesterday.

He pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving and was fined $15 and costs. His driving rights were suspended for 30 days.

The assault and battery charges were filed against Tittle by Koon Tai, 42, of 1358 Ashland road, driver of the other car involved in the accident, and G. Y. Yee, Mansfield, R. D. 2, a passenger of Tai's car.

Tittle pleaded innocent to both assault and battery charges and the case was continued until tomorrow. Bond was set at $500.

Frank Handshoe, 25, of 270 North Main street, charged with leaving the scene of an accident, entered a plea of innocent and the hearing was continued until tomorrow. He is being held under $500 bond.

Garland H. Gebert of Pierceton, Ind., and Saul Seigle of Columbus, forfeited $25 bonds when they failed to appear in court today. Both were charged with speeding.

Richard O. Gantz, 27, of Westerville, admitting crossing the yellow line, was fined $5 and costs.

Players Offer 'Laura' Tomorrow

John Simpson auditorium will be filled with mystery tomorrow night as the detective Mark McPherson begins his search for the murderer of Laura Hunt, attractive New York advertising agent.

The Community Players' last production of the year, "Laura," will be presented Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at 8:25. Tickets will be on sale at the box office and at the Mansfield Leland hotel.

An unusual stage set of burguandy, gray and gold has been designed by Walter Perl for the production. Wallpaper has been used to highlight the set instead of the usual flat paint.

RUN RABBIT—Clarence Smith, Mansfield, R. D. 1, finds one of the rabbits the YMCA hid in South park for its Bunny Hunt Saturday. More than 150 youngsters turned out for the event which topped a busy vacation week for 'Y' boys.

BRIEFING—These attentive youngsters are listening to Bunny Hunt last-minute instructions from W. E. Meyer, 407 Fifth avenue, who donated the prize rabbit, Miss 'Y,' to the YMCA to give to the youngster selected as having the most Christian attitude, for doing the most outstanding volunteer work for the YMCA. Winners were Robert and Gary Garrett, of 133 Vennum avenue.

Study Milk Price Cut

Meeting Set For Thursday

Mansfield dairymen will meet with area milk producers Thursday to consider a new cut in milk prices, a dairy spokesman said today.

Earlier this month, Mansfield dairymen said they expected milk prices here to drop another cent a quart by May 1, as pastures grow more luxuriant and milk output increases.

The last reduction in milk prices was April 15, when regular milk dropped to 18 cents a quart in Mansfield.

However, even after the last price cut, milk prices here are one cent higher than in Ashland, Cleveland, Galion, and other northern Ohio cities.

Await Report On Sanity

MT. GILEAD — The mental condition of John Thomas Barnett, 19, OSR parolee held here under indictment for the fatal shooting of his sister near Iberia on April 8, is being determined by Dr. J. F. Bateman, superintendent of the Columbus State hospital.

Dr. Bateman said today further examination will be necessary but he hopes to inform Morrow county officials of his findings late in the week.

Barnett, seized by a posse in woods near the scene of the tragedy, was ordered examined by Dr. J. F. Bateman, superintendent of the Columbus State hospital, by Common Pleas Judge Leland Rutherford on April 16. Barnett was paroled from the Ohio State Reformatory in Mansfield on March 23 after being sentenced on an auto theft charge.

He was probated to his brother-in-law, Kermit K. Campbell, and authorities say he used Campbell's 22 caliber rifle to kill his sister, Mrs. Mary Velma (Phyllis) Campbell, 21, on the porch room of the Campbell tenant farm house near Iberia. The officers said Barnett became angered when his sister threatened to tell the authorities Barnett intended, breaking his parole.

Illness Fatal To Mrs. Crook

Mrs. Sarah Crook, 40, wife of Harry Crook, Mansfield, R. D. 2, died at Mansfield General hospital early Sunday morning, following an illness of several months.

Mrs. Crook was born in Kentucky, Aug. 19, 1908, and came to Mansfield three years ago.

She is survived by her husband, three stepsons, Howard, Lester, and Cecil Crook, all of Canton; a step-daughter, Mrs. Leonard Derry of Mansfield; three brothers, Delbert and Roy Delp of West Virginia, and Guy Delp of Kentucky, and a sister, Mrs. R. M. Reedy, of Kentucky.

Rev. John G. Gensel, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, will conduct private services at the Wappner funeral home at 1 p. m. Wednesday. Burial will be in Mansfield cemetery.

Lexington Man Charged By Police

Woodrow George Stringfellow, 36, of Lexington, R. D. 2, was ordered to appear in municipal court Saturday when police arrested him at 5 a. m. Sunday on a charge of being in physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol.

Police said they arrested Stringfellow in a car at Fourth and Walnut streets. Stringfellow was released on $200 appearance bond.

Mansfield Girl Writes Best Essay

Miss Norma McCally, senior at Mansfield Senior high and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther H. McCally, 581 West Fourth street, was announced the 12th-grade winner of the American Legion's annual essay contest yesterday in the 20-county Fifth district.

The announcement was made at the Legion's Fifth district spring conference held in Woodville.

Miss Jean Lynn Riley, of Shelby, won the first award in the 11th-grade class with an essay on the topic which all entries used, "The American Way, What Is It?"

The winning essays will be entered in the Legion's state contest.

Dedication of the Clarence L. Nieman American Legion Post No. 455, at Woodville, was the highlight of the day with the dedication being made by past state commander Harry Eaton, of Ashland.

Heading the Mansfield 16-man Legion delegation was Robert Dickerson, vice commander of the McVey Post, and Dwight A. McCullough, commander of the Fourth Division consisting of Richland and Ashland counties.

Representing the Shelby O'Brien Legion Post No. 327 were Richland county Commander Leonard Waines, Post Commander John Echelberry and four other Shelby Legionnaires.

The afternoon program was called to order by Harry Hildebrandt, commander of the Clarence L. Neiman Post 455, with invocation by Dr. Paul W. Nesper, pastor of the Solomon Lutheran church. There was an address of welcome by Woodville's Mayor Harry A. Karchner with a response by Alton Pontius, commander of the district.

Heads Blue Star Group

Mrs. Harry Constance, former president of the Mansfield chapter of the Blue Star Mothers, is the new Ohio department president of the Blue Star Mothers of America.

Mrs. Constance was installed in Cleveland Saturday, following her unanimous election at the annual convention held in Cleveland last week. At the installation, she was presented a gift from the Mansfield chapter, Fred C. Harrington Chapter No. 4, by Mrs. W. O. Doty, chapter president.

Mrs. William Beer, senior vice president of the Mansfield chapter, was elected recording secretary of the state organization.

Mrs. Constance was president of the Mansfield chapter from 1943 to 1946, and has served as state treasurer and state junior vice president. She has been active in veterans' hospital work.

Among the 200 attending the convention were Mansfielders Mrs. J. M. Simpson, Mrs. Henry Hazensahl, Mrs. Leo Saltzgaber, Mrs. Harry Gerhart, Mrs. Harry Bowman, Mrs. B. J. Bucher, and Mrs. Clarence Williams.

Marchant Rites Set For Tuesday

Funeral services for Sherman Marchant, 80, retired Mansfield realtor, will be held at the Finefrock funeral home at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday in charge of Rev. Charles W. Stoneburner, pastor of the First Methodist church. Burial will be in Milledgeville cemetery, near Washington Court House. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Mr. Marchant died at his home, 109 Stewart avenue, Saturday afternoon, following a lingering illness.

P-TA Council To Elect Officers

Election of officers will be held at a meeting of the P-TA Council at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. The meeting will be held in Room 207, John Simpson junior high school.

Rev. W. J. Shawk, pastor of the Main Street Evangelical UB church, will be the guest speaker. His topic will be "Home and Family Life."

CALL FOR EQUIPMENT—

Members of Mansfield's two senior Girl Scout mounted troops want to do some pioneer camping in June, but first they need some jungle hammocks and tents. The girls plan to do their camping at Mohican State park if they can get the necessary equipment. Anyone who has such hammocks and tents and is willing to loan them to the girls should call Evelyn Hughes, assistant leader of mounted Troop 28, at 7665-6.

DEER, O DEER!—

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Young, 185 Lind avenue, may have venison steaks in the back yard of their country retreat near Mohican State park soon. Last week, Mrs. Young reports, she and her husband saw four half-grown deer grazing in a field along State Route 97 and "not far from the entrance to the park." "We've often seen them around the park, either alone or in pairs, but this is the first time we've ever seen four together," Mrs. Young said. "We might be hunting deer soon in our back yard."

We hate to disappoint Mrs. Young, but the deer in the park and in Richland and Ashland counties are protected by the state game laws.

5 Killed In Toledo District

Man, Woman Hurt Near Shiloh

The Mansfield area escaped with only two persons injured in traffic mishaps during the week end. Neither was hurt seriously.

The Toledo area listed the largest number of traffic fatalities in Ohio during the three-day period with five dead in three mishaps. Thirteen traffic deaths were reported in other parts of the state, three of them occurring early today.

Injured in a two-car collision a mile and two-tenths southeast of Shiloh at 5:42 a. m. Sunday were Conrad Stoneburner of Shiloh, and Mrs. Helen Bettac, of Plymouth.

Stoneburner, who suffered rib and chest injuries, was treated at General hospital and released. Mrs. Bettac suffered minor facial lacerations.

State highway patrolmen said the collision occurred when an auto driven by George Hoffman, 17, of 223 Seventh avenue, Mansfield, struck a car driven by Chester Bettac of Plymouth. The accident occurred on State Route 603. Stoneburner was a passenger in Hoffman's car and Mrs. Bettac was riding with her husband.

Toll of the Toledo area accidents included:

John Poisguy, 21, and Charles J. Vargo, 21, both of Toledo, were killed Sunday in the plunge of their car off Corduroy road at Reno Beach. Anthony Patch, 49, and Alex Bertram, 48, of Detroit, were injured fatally Sunday in a grade crossing accident. Their car struck a freight engine near Toledo. Robert G. Dykes, 41, Toledo, was killed Saturday in an accident near Port Clinton.

Killed early today in mishaps were:

Mrs. Mossie Louise Philpot, 32, of Dayton, was killed when the car in which she was riding overturned near Farmersville.

Joseph R. Abel, 19, of Bedford, died of injuries received in a traffic crash at Middletown.

Knox county recorded its fifth 1949 traffic death when William J. Bennington, 67, a factory worker, was struck by a taxi as he walked across Route 3 south of Mount Vernon.

Other fatalities of the week end included:

At Steubenville, Samuel Cox, 44, and Viola Witcher, 35, were killed when their car plunged down a 100-ft. embankment Sunday.

RECORD MARRED

Middletown went 485 days without a traffic fatality until yesterday. Wilbur Ison, 18, was injured fatally Sunday when a car went out of control and struck a tree. The accident occurred just inside city limits. It was the same crash in which the Abel youth was killed.

Ferd Kroeger, 48, was struck and killed in Cincinnati by a hit-run motorist Sunday.

Juanita McBride, 15, was injured fatally Saturday night in an automobile collision at Akron.

At Irville, Muskingum county, Richard Synder, 70, a cripple, was killed when a car struck his wheel chair Saturday. He was wheeling himself home after visiting a neighbor.

Philip J. Senn, 32, of Dayton, was injured fatally Saturday in a two-car collision on U. S. Route 25 at Blue Ball, Butler county.

Robert G. Dykes, 41, of Toledo, was killed Saturday in a traffic accident near Port Clinton.

Cecil Hellard, 17, was killed Saturday night at Dayton when his car plunged over an embankment and crashed into a clump of trees on a golf course.

Cleveland listed its 35th traffic fatality of the year Saturday. Barbara Jean Kendig, 5, was killed by a car while walking to a neighborhood store with her mother, Evelyn Kendig, 27.

Richland Farmers Get Details Of Federal Farm Program

Richland county farmers are studying the federal farm bill through the Farm Bureau's "grassroots" program.

With the help of the Farm Bureau advisory councils in virtually every township, farmers will acquaint themselves with Secretary of Agriculture Brannan's measure and make their ideas known to lawmakers.

Pamphlets are being distributed to Richland rural families by the advisory councils to acquaint them with the program.

When the study is complete, the Advisory councils will oppose or endorse the farm program, and inform the state Farm Bureau of their decision.

Next Thursday a state Farm Bureau legislative committee, including Pharis Owens of Licking county, will be in Washington to meet with the congressional farm committee and lawmakers. Owens represents the 17th district and Richland county on the committee.

The committeemen will confer with Congressman J. Harry McGregor and Ohio's Senators Taft and Bricker on the farm proposal. Following the meeting, the committee will report to state and county Farm Bureau organizations on its findings.

Nearly 30 farm advisory councils of approximately 12 members each are working in Richland county to acquaint farmers with the legislation that concerns them, Paul White, county Farm Bureau organization manager, said.

Veteran Coach Seeks End of Spring Grid

Football 'Battle' On Again

By FRED THARP
(News-Journal Sports Editor)

Mansfield high school football coaches believe in spring football practice in theory but not in actual practice.

Senior high, which has been an in-and-outer for years where the spring drills are concerned, dropped on the sidelines again this season and so far none of the Tyger spring sport teams have been defeated. Whether or not such would be the case if Senior high was holding spring grid drills is problematical.

Madison doesn't consider spring practices and now that the Rams are playing baseball the manpower just couldn't spread around.

The question of spring grid practices came up again today when it was revealed that T. W. Caskey, Steubenville high school athletic director, has been circulating letters asking that school principals act on a ban on the off-season drills. Apparently only about 20 of the state's 550 football playing schools are holding the drills.

That they are not necessary was clearly shown at Massillon last year. The Tigers did not go through spring practice, but started under a new coach in the fall and won the state title.

After a ban on spring drills during the war, Senior high athletic director Augie Morningstar and Jack Mollenkopf, then of Toledo Waite, led a fight to put the spring sport back in the schools. Morningstar was then football coach at Massillon. The vote carried by a 2-to-1 majority but still very few of the schools went into spring football.

CET THING SETTLED

One of the letters from Caskey was received at Senior high school. Principal Glenn Rohleder says he replied in favor of a referendum so that "we can get this thing settled once and for all."

"I told them," continued Rohleder, "that I was tired of all of this talk of regulating football and not other sports. If football practice should be limited so should drills in other sports. I think that Fred Staub (faculty manager of athletics) and Augie Morningstar (athletic director) agree on this. Many schools practice certain sports the year around and others suffer."

Morningstar readily concurred on the regulation idea. He said in part, "If other sports are restricted on practice then so should football. If not, let football practices run at any time, the same as the rest."

"Right now, at Senior high he has several athletes who are not fast enough for track and can't make the baseball, golf and tennis teams. These boys would like to be playing football instead of laying around. But with the present rules I cannot throw them a ball and let them do any practicing. There should'nt be any regulations of grid practices."

NO ADVANTAGE

Madison did not get a letter but Coach Ennis Walker says he can see no advantage for any school in spring football under the present setup except in the case of an injured player having time to recover before the season starts.

"I think that spring training, if you stick to the rules, doesn't allow enough time to get ready in the fall," says Walker. "All you can do then is get timing of plays and conditioning but no body contact."

"If schools were allowed to have spring football and then start on Aug. 20, I'd be in favor of it. Then we'd get away from a lot of schools practicing football on the sly. I definitely do not believe that boys should be required to give up spring sports for football."

Only a Few Ohio School 11's Drilling

STEUBENVILLE—(AP)—Steubenville high school's veteran athletic director, T. W. Caskey, wants to abolish spring football practice in Ohio's high schools.

He says that in all but the very largest schools the 30-day spring grid drill "knocks into a cocked hat" track, baseball and other sports of the season.

"Take a school of 700 to 1,000 enrollment," says Caskey. "They have about 450 boys, and you can't get more than 75 potential athletes out of that number. Then put 30 of those on the football field, and what have you got left? It hurts track, particularly."

SPRING ROSTER

Oddly enough, Steubenville, where Caskey has been coaching and directing sports for 21 years, is one of the few big Ohio schools which had spring drills this year. Massillon, Canton, Hamilton, several Toledo schools, and perhaps a dozen other large high schools held the drills which had to be concluded by last Saturday.

The teams with spring training can't start fall practice until Sept. 1, but the others can start Aug. 20.

Caskey has sent out about 100 letters to high school principals proposing that a ban on spring grid drill be put to a referendum vote of the Ohio high school athletic association's membership of about 1,-100 schools, half of them with football teams.

He has some 40 favorable replies and only one turndown. "Without any doubt," he says, he will get the 50 petitioners needed to call a referendum. The vote probably would be next fall, and the result would govern the 1950 practice.

Strong opposition to Caskey's campaign was voiced clear across the state in Toledo by Grant Murray, vice president of the board of education, and president of the association for advancement of the youth of Ohio.

RECORD DEFEAT

"Three years ago this same proposition was voted upon and defeated by a record vote of 2-1," Murray said. "We had to consult the state legislature to abandon such a practice, and if necessary we'll again go to the legislature to tie up funds of any school board district which would violate the legal laws of the state.

"All boys in Ohio are entitled under state laws enacted by the legislature of Ohio to freedom that goes with an amateur sport. This freedom cannot be restricted by an extra legal organization which has no standing in state law. I intend to bring this matter to the personal attention of every school board member in Ohio so that boys may be guaranteed their full rights under the school laws of this state."

Caskey reports that Texas, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Michigan all adopted similar bans on spring training for high schools. But Kentucky recently decided in favor of the spring drill.

The senate league, which includes the top football teams in greater Cleveland high schools, has a ban on spring practice. Dayton, Columbus and Cincinnati are among other large cities whose schools have no spring drill. Mansfield dropped spring practice this year.

Play came when Gerald Priddy, Browns' second baseman, hit grounder to Shortstop Luke Appling. The throw went from Appling to Cass Michaels (left), Sox second baseman, who relays to Steve Souchock on first to complete the play.—(AP photo)

Mansfield Baseball Fans Offered Choice of Games

Mansfield baseball fans will get a chance to see their favorites in action tomorrow afternoon and it doesn't matter who their favorites are.

For the first time in many years there will be a choice of high school ball games as Senior high and Madison both play home contests. The Tygers are to be host to Willard at Liberty park at 4 p. m. while Madison meets Lucas at 3:30 at Blue Goose.

It will be the second game of the season for the Tygers who won their opener, 19-5, over Barberton. Lou Gregorio, the veteran little fast-baller, will do the pitching and then come back Friday when Senior high meets Madison at Blue Goose.

The Mansfield-Marion game set for this afternoon has been postponed until Thursday and Tyger Coach Mike Byelene will get a chance to test his second-string pitching in that affair.

Madison will be attempting to get its head above the .500 mark tomorrow, having already won two and lost two games. Lucas was one of the victims by a 12-0 count

Hot Stove Loop Meets Tonight

The Mansfield chapter of the Hot Stove league will make final plans for its role of host to the state convention at a meeting set for 7:30 tonight in the police identification bureau office of the city building.

The local chapter will be host to around 125 delegates from 28 Ohio cities next Sunday.

Parker Comeback Wins Net Crown

PARIS — (UP) — Flashy Frankie Parker, former national singles' champion, added the Paris International Tennis title to his laurels yesterday when he came from behind to beat Marcel Bernard of France

Parker won the first set easily, 6-0, but dropped the next two, 5-7, and 3-6 Utilizing a fine back-hand, Parker won the next two sets, 9-7, 6-2

Wins Walk Race

HAMILTON — (AP) — William Mihalo of Detroit yesterday won the Hamilton American Legion's annual 15 kilo meter handicap walking race in one hour, 20 minutes and seven seconds.

1948 Champ Takes Lead In Pin Meet

The second annual News-Journal Head Pin tournament headed down the home stretch today with one of last year's champions back in the saddle and leading the pack by a good margin.

Elnora Gentille, the 1948 Women's champion, took her turn on the lanes yesterday and not only reclaimed her place at the head of the women but beat anything the men had to offer. She recorded 20 strikes and did not miss the head-pin a single time in recording games of 113-106-112—331. A perfect score is only 120-120-120—360.

All of which means that the few remaining males who have not already rolled their alloted two games in the meet will be out in force this week in an attempt to keep the "weaker sex" from walking off with top honors.

Bob Bieri, the Class A men's leader rolled 330 some time ago and unless someone can beat that before the tournament closes next Sunday night, the men will have taken a serious loss of face.

One other new leader appeared over the weekend as Richard Snavely took command of Men's Class B with a scorecard of 107-111-110—328. He had only 13 strikes but like Mrs. Gentille, he hit the No. 1 pin on all 36 throws.

LOU HITS 323

Only other person who got into the "top ten" listing was Lou Tridico who tossed a 323 for fifth place in Class A.

Other scores included:

MEN'S DIVISION

Class A—Jake Gaubatz jr, 278 and 288; Jim Gentille, 225.

Class B—Wilbur White, 307, Lew Barnes, 261, Frank Newton, 225, Sheldon, 284, Harry Byers, 243

Class C—Pete Keiser, 301, Dave Moysl, 277, Heinz Ickert, 242, Bob Grunelsen, 200, Roy Douville, 268, William Bauer, 240.

WOMEN'S DIVISION

Class A—Ann Sauer 295, Mari Sedlak, 265 Ruth Southworth, 249

Class B—Hon Wehinger 280, Kitty Robinson, 252, Grace Chronister, 231, Jean Douville 220.

Class C—Roy Douville, 268, Jessie Haynes 211, Effa Haynes 165, Sophie Metz, 190 Betty Wehinger, 117, Kitty Robinson, 252

Clara Mataya Tops Tourney

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Clara Mataya is keeping right up with hubby in the bowling world.

The 43-year-old St. Louis housewife held the singles lead today in the women's international bowling congress tournament. Her husband is Frank Mataya, who is considered one of the nation's best male bowlers.

Mrs. Mataya walked off the Riverview alleys yesterday with a 658 series in the individual event. That has been good enough to win the individual title in the WIBC tournament in 23 of the previous 31 tournaments. Prior to that, she had scored 580 of her share of the doubles. Her 658 came from games of 223-191-244.

Cleveland Weather Luck Not Up to '48

CLEVELAND—(INS)—Manager Lou Boudreau sent his Cleveland Indians through a workout at the Municipal stadium today while President Bill Veeck was trying to recover his luck with the weather.

Veeck, who was fortunate not to have a game called in 1948 because of inclement weather, sent some 30,000 ticketholders, many from out of town, away from the stadium yesterday as rain and cold weather forced postponement of the Tribe's contest with the Detroit Tigers.

Boudreau then announced that there would be a workout today at the lakefront horseshoe to sharpen the Redskins' batting eyes. He believes the Tribe hasn't had enough hitting practice in the last few weeks.

BROWNS TUESDAY

The defending champions resume play tomorrow at the stadium against the St. Louis Browns with Bob Lemon, who was slated to pitch yesterday's game, on the mound. He has defeated the Browns 12 times, while they have managed to solve him only once.

Next on the list of invaders is the Chicago White Sox, who come to the Sixth City Wednesday after the Browns' one-day visit.

The Tribe then heads for Detroit Friday to spend the week end battling the Tigers before returning home to stave off an invasion of eastern clubs.

Bob Feller was supposed to do a little throwing today, but if the weatherman is correct in his forecast of cold weather, it is doubtful if the fireballer will do any hurling for a few days.

"If it's not a warm day," Boudreau said, "I don't think it would do Bob any good to throw. After all, he can afford to play safe and take another couple of days off. There's no use taking any chances."

Al Benton, big right-hander obtained from Sacramento by the Indians, reported yesterday and will be in uniform for practice today.

BENTON IS OKAY

Manager Boudreau said, however, that Benton will not be used until late this week since the last time he pitched was Wednesday out on the coast. Boudreau added that the former Detroit hurler is in good condition.

The Redskins' relief pitcher situation was somewhat improved by the showing of Sam Zoldak against the Tigers Saturday. Although the Indians lost the contest, 5-4, in the 10th, Zoldak turned in a creditable performance. An error by Thurman Tucker cost the Tribe the game.

YESTERDAY'S STARS
(By Associated Press)

BATTING—Ed Bockman, Pirates batted in all Pittsburgh runs with a pair of homers as the Pirates defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 3-1, in the second game of their doubleheader.

PITCHING—Randy Gumpert, White Sox, scattered three singles in pitching Chicago to a 4-0 second game victory over the St Louis Browns.

Alumni 'M' Group To Make Plans

The Alumni "M" association will complete plans for Wednesday's basketball banquet at a meeting slated for 7:30 p. m. today in the YMCA.

Meanwhile, Gene Lantz, co-chairman of the banquet committee announced that Jay Herbert, young Mansfield ventriloquist, would be an added attraction at Wednesday's show.

DYE TO SPEAK

Tippy Dye, Ohio State basketball coach, will give the principal speech, and the "most valuable player" will be presented as other features. Election of the "most valuable player" was scheduled to be run off at Senior high school this afternoon.

Wednesday's banquet will honor the Tyger team which won the sectional and district tournaments and advanced to the regional finals.

Marshall Smith, ticket chairman, said there was still seats available. Ticket sale will close tomorrow.

It's our family's whiskey neighbor, and neighbor, it's your price!

That's a picture of Dad we keep hanging in the front hall
In this snap I'm pointing to Harry E. Wilken the second, a grand distiller. He taught us to make fine whiskey, just as his Pop taught him. That's my brother William to the right and my brother-in-law Tom to the left, and our dog Jessie in the middle, as usual.
Harry E. Wilken

Here's our family's whiskey back again,
and just as tasty as my Dad and Grandpa used to make it

Yes, it's been a long long time since folks could enjoy any of that good tasty whiskey our family used to make. But not so long that folks don't remember it well, and write to ask us what became of it. Well, after our spell of war work, it just plain took time to get our old gang together, and get our distillery to where it was turning out our family's recipe in the good old way. By now we're rolling again, and you folks can get the same tasty whiskey as us distillers drink ourselves. Best part of the whole thing is how many folks say our whiskey's better now than they recollect it ever was. And they're mighty pleased the way we keep the price real reasonable.

Chicago Second With Five Straight

White Sox Take Two Tilts From Browns

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

Hold off on those flowers—the patient is far from dead.

The patient, of course, is the Chicago White Sox, the club that was doomed by the experts to die of loneliness in the dreary confines of the American league basement.

Apparently the White Sox have different ideas on the subject. Judging from today's standings, the Sox not only are very much alive, but are making some of the other teams roll over and play dead.

The end of the first week of play finds the Sox tied with the Philadelphia Athletics for second place, only half a game behind the fast-moving New York Yankees. They have won five and lost only two, all their victories coming in a row.

FINE PITCHING

Splendid pitching by Bill Wight and Randy Gumpert yesterday enabled the White Sox to whip the St. Louis Browns twice, 2-1 and 4-0, giving them a sweep of the four-game series. Wight needed the help of some swell relief pitching by Matt Surkont, Rochester draftee, and a two-run ninth-inning rally by his mates to escape being charged with a 1-0 setback. Surkont, who worked the ninth, got the victory. Gumpert's performance was more gilt-edged. He permitted only three singles and allowed no Brownie runner to pass second base.

The Athletics continued to fatten up at the expense of Washington pitchers, combing Sid Hudson and two reliefers for 12 hits to whip the Senators 8-3. It marked the sixth straight loss for the Nats, who have not won since opening day. Lou Brissie went the distance for the second time in a row, notching his second triumph on a five hitter.

The Boston Red Sox continued to flounder around, dropping their fourth game in six starts, when the Yankees came from behind to defeat them, 9-4. Trailing 4-0, the Bronx Bombers scored six runs in the eighth, and added three more in the ninth to salt away their fifth triumph against only one loss. Gene Woodling hit a three-run homer for the Yanks.

Brooklyn's scrappy Dodgers retained their half-game margin in the National league race, splitting a doubleheader with the Phillies in Philadelphia. The Phils won the opener, 7-4, and the Dodgers took the second, 6-5. Home runs by Richie Ashburn, Stan Lopata and Eddie Miller highlighted the Phils' victory.

FALL INTO SECOND

The Cincinnati Reds fell into a second place tie with the New York Giants when they divided a twin bill with the Pirates in Pittsburgh. The Reds won the first game, 3-2, in 10 innings with Charley Kress singling home Johnny Wyrostek with the winning run. Eddie Bockman drove in all Pittsburgh's runs with a pair of home runs in the Pirates' 3-1 second game victory.

Sheldon Jones went all the way, scattering seven hits, as the Giants defeated the Boston Braves 6-2. Bobby Thompson provided the winning margin in the first inning with a three-run homer, off Vern Bickford.

Joe Garagiola doubled home Enos Slaughter with the run that gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 5-4 triumph over the Chicago Cubs. The blow came in the last half of the ninth with two out.

The game between Cleveland and Detroit was postponed by rain and cold weather.

The Disabled American Veterans softball team will meet East Side Nite club in a practice softball game at 6 p. m. today at Johns park. DAV players will report at 5:30.

Ransom Is Winner Of Wilmington Golf Tournament

WILMINGTON, N. C. — (UP) — Driving and putting as if the groceries were getting low, Henry Ransom posted a $2,000 Wilmington Open victory today to break the stranglehold the big name players have held on the professional circuit this season.

He went over par only twice on the final 18 holes and shot a two-under-par 70 to win the 72-hole event with a 276.

Memphis dentist Cary Middlecoff, Bobby Locke of South Africa, Fred Haas jr. of New Orleans, and Bob Hamilton of Landover, Md. tied for second with 278's. Each received $975.

Paul O'Leary, the rookie pro from Bismarck, N. D., and Dick Metz of Virginia Beach, Va., were bracketed next with 281's and they split $1,220. O'Leary, who clung to the lead through the first 54 holes, blew up on the final 18 and shot a four-over-par 76

A Real Farm Buy

A valley farm of 98 acres of very rich soil, all tillable with exception of few acres timber. This farm has two good houses—one six room frame for tenant and a six room attractive stone home as good as day was built. This stone home is an old home with walnut finish and would be a beauty by redecorating on inside. There is an almost new bank barn 42 by 75 fully equipped for stock and storage. These buildings are worth far more than the asking price of $15,500.00. Fine location short distance north of Mifflin. Electric in houses and barn.

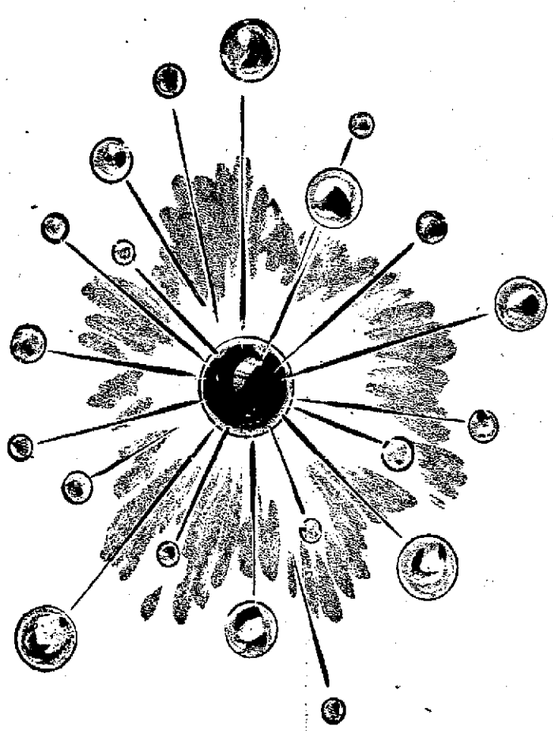
Now! The most powerful Gasoline your car can use!

"Activated"

SHELL PREMIUM

Shell splits molecules to get more power for today's more powerful engines!



Yes, many of today's engines have been stepped-up . . . they call for more powerful gasoline! Now Shell gives you the most powerful gasoline your car can use—Shell Premium—it's "activated." No other fuel can top its power in your car.

This is made possible by Shell's own, specially produced power components and by Shell's own blending methods!

Actually, Shell splits molecules to get more power for today's more powerful engines. So you get a gasoline that's "activated" 3 ways!

1. Activated for knockless power!
Pulling hard in low gear or traveling at full throttle, Shell Premium delivers full, quiet power!

2. Activated for fast "getaway."
Shell Premium delivers the extra power you can feel—no "balking," no "stuttering"—you go!

3. Activated for full mileage.
Shell engineers "balance" Shell Premium so that every drop of fuel works for you!

Activation makes the difference

Shell splits molecules: Shell scientists take the finest available crude—activate the molecules by splitting them and rearranging the atoms according to Shell's formula for a perfectly balanced gasoline. The result—Shell Premium, the most powerful gasoline your car can use!

Claims Ohio Can Double Crop Yield

Says Land Can Be Built Up Quickly

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Ohio can double its crop yields and feed twice as many people on its present farming acreage.

That was the statement made before the Ohio State Alumni club at Washington by Dean L. L. Rummell, of the university's College of Agriculture.

Rummell struck out at "writers who would have us facing peasantry on a limited or even starvation basis." He declared:

"These pessimists picture grandfather as a wicked, ruthless old man who despoiled the land, plundered the planet, mined the soil of its fertility, and let top soil wash away by trainloads, finally abandoning his land to move on and start anew on the road to disaster."

Rummell said a study at the Ohio Agriculture Experiment station at Wooster showed that when six inches of top soil was removed from an acre of land, the corn yield dropped from 86 to 26 bushels per acre.

However, within four years, the yield was raised to 64 bushels — twice the state's average corn yield — by proper management, including fertilizers, manure, clover and lime.

Rummell said that restoration of soil does not take 1,000 years, or even 300. He pointed to hundreds of acres of strip-mined areas in eastern Ohio where subsoil, sandstone and shale are brought up 40 to 80 feet. He said that within five to 10 years, this material disintegrates and grows trees, sweet clover and alfalfa.

Emphasizing the importance of agricultural research, the dean said:

"Hybrids increased corn yields more than erosion ever reduced them. Hybrids in Ohio likely put 20 million more bushels in our cribs this year — 25 million more dollars in our farmers' pockets. That is more than we have spent in 50 years on the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station.

"Thorne wheat, named for the first station director, added at least five bushels to our yields, and on two million acres, that is another 25 million dollars in increased wealth annually."

Rummell said that agricultural research has meant more than increased yields. He explained:

"We took the lessons learned from feedlot experiments and applied them to boys and girls. Pigs and kids have a lot in common.

"We enjoy greater health, higher efficiency, longer life — we raise stronger, healthier athletes — because the lessons of nutrition learned with pigs and calves and baby chicks were put to work in our kitchens."

Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan appeared on the program with Rummell.

Swimmers in the 14th century wore special cramps rings which they thought would ward off stomach cramps.

FLAMES SOAR—Fire of an undetermined origin destroyed this building, housing a super market and the Tri-County Rural Electric corporation at Napoleon, O. Fire Chief E. V. Austermiller estimated the damage at $100,000.

German Socialist Leader Said Opposing West State

FRANKFURT—(U.P.)— A usually reliable source said that German Socialist Leader Kurt Schumacher has told his followers that they must not allow the creation of a West German government at this time.

The informant said Schumacher told a closed party caucus at Hannovery last week that the Socialists had written their own constitution for the proposed new West German state intentionally so that it would be unacceptable to Allied government officials and other West German parties.

Schumacher was understood to have explained this was done because he had reliable information it would be possible soon to establish a government for all Germany—an indication that he expects the Berlin blockade to end and four-power negotiations to be resumed.

He was said to have contended that the Socialists could not hope to win a majority in elections for Western Germany only, but would win if the elections also covered the Soviet zone and Berlin.

Child's Book Uses Type In Two Sizes

Youngsters, Adults Read Together

Among the new children's books at the Mansfield Public Library is one called, READ WITH ME, by Charlotte Krum, a good book for young readers without much experience. The stories in the book are partly in large print and partly in smaller type. Children can read the large print and follow the story by looking at the pictures, while an adult fills in the details by reading the smaller print.

An amusing story about a rabbit and a balloon is told in Emma Brock's "Surprise Balloon."

It won't be long now before spring thunder showers and rainbows will be coming along. So, it seems like a good time to read JONATHAN AND THE RAINBOW by Jacob Blanck, with pictures by Louis Slobodkin. Jonathan knew a pirate-a real, honest-to-badness pirate. His name was Captain Jones and everyone in the village was afraid of him. When Jonathan came to town he wasn't afraid of anything so he made friends with the pirate. But, Jonathan soon learned that once a pirate always a pirate. Pirates will steal things and there's no stopping them.

One day Captain Jones stole a rainbow, rolled it up and put it in the cellar. Well, you can guess what trouble that made. But it makes a good story, too.

The COMPLETE NURSERY SONG BOOK by Inez Bertail is a treasure trove of songs and rhymes for small children. The music is simple, small pianists can play it and there are so many that once you start it's hard to stop

Kitty Barne's new book is a mystery. It is called the SECRET OF THE SANDHILLS and concerns a group of English children on a vacation. They spend the vacation with a grandfather whom they have never seen. There is a man with a missing finger, mysterious planes dropping little parcels out on the sand dunes, a completely furnished and completely deserted house, and some very queer happenings before the end of the vacation.

CELIA'S LIGHTHOUSE is a book about Maine lighthouses.

'Mean Woman' Cares For 5 War Families

CHANDLER, OKLA. — (UP) — A woman who proudly claims the title of "stingiest woman in Chandler" spends most of her time trying to take care of five war-stricken European families.

Miss Fannie Filtsch has to keep busy saving and gathering food and clothing to keep an average of five packages each week in the mails to her "adopted" families in Germany, Hungary and Austria.

Miss Filtsch, a middle-aged woman with no family of her own, lives in extremely modest circumstances and she has to be stingy to gather enough to fill those 22-pound packages.

She saves scraps of cloth and old hats, collects clothing and food and makes home-made soap from wastes collected in Chandler cafes. She even had an agrument with the Chandler city council over her garbage bill because she claims she never has any garbage.

Mapping Business Census of Mansfield Firms

Will Check All Stores, Factories

Last Count Taken In 1939

The extent of the gains made in business in Mansfield over the past 13 years and the city's current standing, in relation to other communities, will be determined by the new Census of Business begun by the Department of Commerce.

The census, the first since the 1939 count, which represented conditions in 1935, is a nationwide undertaking. Enumerators, now in the field, will cover all retail, wholesale, and other businesses, gathering figures on employment, payrolls, receipts and the like.

The last census showed Mansfield to have 610 retail stores in operation. They grossed $15,790,000 for the year. The 61 wholesale establishments in the city did a sales volume of $8,880,000 and the 70 manufacturing plants produced goods valued at $27,130,000

These activities, and others, gave gainful occupation to 14,500 people out of the 33,500 then residing in Mansfield. The city's population is now more than 45,000.

Since that time the national income has risen from 156.4 billions a year to $224.5 billions, or four times as much. One of the many questions the survey will answer is whether or not Mansfield's gains were in proportion.

Emphasis will also be laid in the census on the development of statistical information designed to furnish management with data to be used in the appraisal and development of business operations.

Cite Ashland Eagles On Gambling Charge

ASHLAND — The local Eagles Aerie No. 2178, at 125 East Main street, was among 38 permit holders cited Saturday to appear before the State Board of Liquor Control and answer charges of violating liquor laws and regulations. The board will hear the cases at Toledo April 26, 27 and 28.

The local Eagles lodge holds a beer and wine permit and is charged with exhibiting gambling devices.

Eurasian Amphibious Drive Predicted In Event of War

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex.—(UP)—A Marine general predicted that in event of another war the United States would wage the greatest amphibious campaign in history against islands ringing the Eurasian land mass.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the Reserve Officers association, Maj. Gen. M. H. Silverthron said that "for the present and foreseeable future the advance base problem is and will be an amphibious problem" in event of war.

He said that neither ships nor planes have yet obtained the range needed to strike "powerful blows against the enemy while operating exclusively from bases on the American continent or from bases we can count on having in our possession."

"Since Eurasia is a vast land mass and a possible area of future operations," he said, "it has been suggested by many persons that the importance of amphibious warfare will be slight."

But, he noted, the Eurasion coastline is eight times that of the United States and "fairly ringed with islands, every one of which might become a potential base of operations."

This indicates he said, that "should another war be forced upon us, there would exist a more extensive scope for amphibious warfare than ever before in the military history of the United States."

Expanded Rifle Drills Arranged

More than 400 Mansfield, Ashland, Wooster and Norwalk members of the Second Battalion, 145th Infantry, were assigned to the rifle range at Ashland for extra "range firing" drills on week ends starting last Saturday.

Major Gen. Leo M. Dreber, the adjutant general of Ohio, said the drills are part of the plan for range firing for the calendar year 1949. The department of the Army, in order to provide more time for tactical and combat exercises at field training, has allowed extra pay drills in addition to the scheduled 48 per year.

Truck Plunges From Bridge

LORAIN —(AP)— A loaded gasoline truck plunged 40 feet into the Vermilion river Saturday when a 100-foot steel girder bridge on State Route 60 collapsed.

Trapped in the truck's cab was driver Sanford C. Simpkinson, 61, of Collins, an employe of the Marathon Gasoline company.

Rescued and taken to a Norwalk hospital by members of the Birmingham fire department, he was reported not seriously hurt.

Police said the bridge, 12 miles southwest of here, is about 100 years old.

Steel Price Retreat Looms As Premium Payments Fade

CLEVELAND — (UP) — Steel producers now are "scrambling" for orders and retreat from present price levels "would not be surprising," the magazine Steel said today.

The magazine said a "shakeout" of premium prices continues as competition for new business mounts and mill order backlogs drop off

"For all practical purposes premiums have just about disappeared," Steel said, "and freight absorption is being resumed here and there.

"Pressure from buyers now is increasingly exerted on standard price listings. These have held to date but with the scramble for orders on in earnest, retreat from present levels by some producers would not be surprising, especialy should third quarter tonnage fail to develop in hoped-for volume."

The industry journal said consumers for the most part are ordering with extreme caution and watching price trends closely. It added that opening of books for the third quarter has aroused litle interest in future commitments.

The scrap market, Steel said, "continues demoralized with prices tending downward. No sign has yet appeared that the bottom is near, with the steel mills generally out of the market."

Foundry demand also is extremely sluggish, Steel said, and steel mill scrap inventories are estimated to run from 30 to 60 days supply.

Despite the sluggish demand and drop in steel order backlogs, producers still have enough business on their books to support high level operations through the current quarter, Steel said.

Last week the national ingot rate remained unchanged at 99 per cent of capacity. Cincinnati was up 2 points to 10 per cent, Detroit up 1 to 111, Pittsburgh up ½ to 98.5, and New England off 8 to 80, and eastern Pennsylvania off 1 to 93.

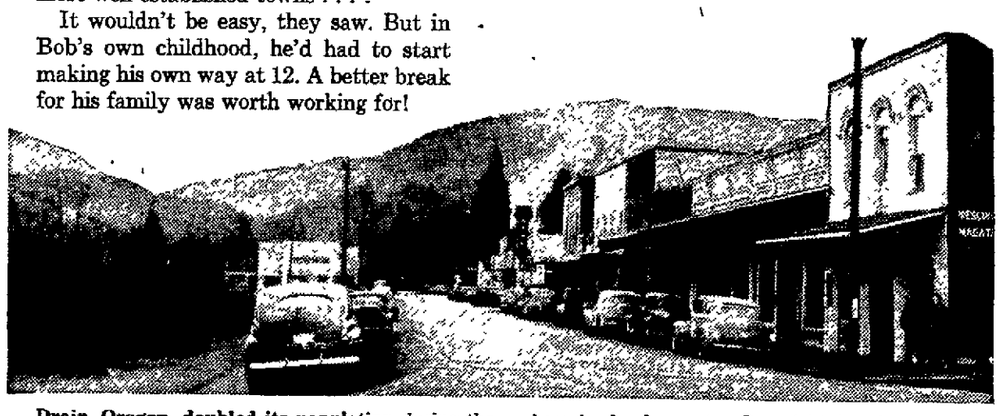
The Bob Lairds have a
Boom-Town Baby!
—But they're winning for their family what every child needs...

AMERICAN FAMILY CLOSE-UP
As they go, so goes the nation!

Problem enough . . . bringing up a family in today's world. But when Bob and Florence Laird brought little Stuart home to Drain, Oregon, they faced still another problem. The Lairds live in a town that's having "growing pains" of its own! How were they to give their youngsters the advantages that children get in more well-established towns . . . ?

It wouldn't be easy, they saw. But in Bob's own childhood, he'd had to start making his own way at 12. A better break for his family was worth working for!

Though 10½-lb. Stuart arrived at an overcrowded house in a crowded town, he was a welcome addition to the family!



Drain, Oregon, doubled its population during the war! From a "wide place in the road" it became a booming lumber center. Overnight, housing was short, schools overcrowded; and no play center for children.

Heading production for a local lumber company, Bob Laird is a busy man. Yet he's pitched in on town affairs, too. He's clerk of the school board, treasurer of a drive for a recreation center, active in scouting and church work—all things that help make Drain a town their children will be proud of!

Kathie and Eddie help their parents beat "boom town" prices! They tend family cow, chickens. The Lairds grow vegetables, too. Florence does the baking, feeds 5 for $100 a month. Parties are "potluck."

Even a crowded house has advantages! The young Lairds like being in on all the family affairs. But Bob plans a bigger house for the future. "To feel secure, every child needs a home that can be a center of fun for family and friends," the Lairds believe. The life insurance coverage Bob gets for $50.00 a month has been so well planned by his agent that it provides both protection for his family and educational funds for his children.

And "when we are through paying the bills for the new baby," says Bob, "I'm going to get my agent's advice about more life insurance." Meanwhile Stuart, like his brother and sister, is growing up in the kind of happy home that hard work and good planning provide!

Big plans for these kids! "I didn't get to college," Bob says, "but they're not going to miss out, too!"

THE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES AND THEIR AGENTS

The Lairds, like other American families, prove to all of us that the only way we really solve our problems is by our own efforts!

These stories of real families much like yours also show how much more success, how much more happiness is possible when you have peace of mind . . . the sort of peace of mind that comes from wise management of money now, and from knowing that future security has been adequately provided for.

The Life Insurance Companies and their Agents bring you these American family close-ups because what this country amounts to depends upon what happens to its homes!

Let's see, was there ever a time that China was entirely free from war?

Hungarian peasants have been promised that quite soon everybody will have a telephone—by following the "party line", of course.

Folks who have occasion to get any repair work done nowadays will understand why it will cost more to reconstruct the old White House than to build a new one.

Health Program at Debate Stage

DEBATE, rather than action, is expected of Congress on President Truman's recommendation of a six-billion-dollars-a-year national health program, but it is anticipated that thought being given this subject will eventually result in extension of medical and surgical care to more people than are reached by present facilities.

While cities are quite well supplied with doctors, specialization has reached such a point that the great need is for general practitioners, especially in small communities and rural areas. This is being taken into account in medical circles, as well as by the public, and efforts are being made to encourage ambitious young persons to enter college to prepare for the medical profession as general practitioners.

Spread of voluntary insurance plans to meet costs of medical and surgical attention, and hospitalization, is also a factor in solving the problems of many who have worried over such expense.

The health program, as outlined by President Truman, can be briefed in this way:

1. A nation-wide compulsory health insurance system, as described above, paid out of taxes.
2. Federal help for medical schools.
3. More federal aid for building hospitals and other things needed for medical care.
4. More federal help with money to state and local governments for preventing and controlling disease, and other health steps.

The costs of such a plan would be monstrous—all to be met by some form of taxation, as well as being of questionable practicability, although federal aid to states in improving medical and hospital facilities would appear beneficial and within financing bounds.

Young Offenders Create Problem

PROPOSAL to use the Richland county children's home as a place for detention of juvenile offenders may be the only feasible way out of the present difficulty, but it should by no means be regarded as a permanent solution of the problem.

Purposes of the children's home are quite different from those of a detention home and the idea of mixing the two has many points of objection which will be recognized by those familiar with operation of the publicly maintained institution for orphans and other unfortunate children who come either from broken homes or whose parents are unable or unwilling to care for them.

These children are given the nearest possible substitute for home environment and training, are required to attend school, and are provided with nourishing food and adequate clothing. Recreational facilities and entertainment are also available, and many of the children who were reared in the Richland county home have made excellent records as adults, with full appreciation of the opportunities given them during the time spent at the home.

While discipline is a necessary part of the children's home program, the thought of giving it any appearance of a penal institution is far removed from the primary purposes of the home, and this would, in all probability, have a bad effect on the attitude of children who are being cared for in the home.

Juvenile detention quarters, such as have heretofore been provided through arrangement with the Salvation Army, are a necessary part of community needs, but some better permanent solution than using the children's home as a place of detention for juvenile culprits would seem highly desirable.

Where Traffic Light Is Needed

NOW THAT South Boulevards is a part of Mansfield corporation, the time seems ripe for long deferred action to place a traffic light at the dangerous intersection of Lexington avenue and Cook road.

Approached from the south over a rather sharp incline, with inclination of many motorists to exceed legal speed at this point, the crossing has been the scene of frequent collisions, some of which have had serious results.

With Woodland to the immediate north of Cook road on the west side of Lexington avenue, and with several business places nearby, this intersection has considerable cross traffic which should be safeguarded against the present danger, and this could be done by installation of a stop and go traffic light—which has been talked about for such a long time as to justify pressure for quick action.

Keeping Up With New Names

IT IS COMING to be a profession in itself to keep track of the correct official names of countries. Siam was Thailand during the war, and is now Siam again. Roumania decided to be known as Romania. Now Israel's uneasy neighbor, Transjordan, henceforth desires to be known as the "Hashemite Jordan Kingdom", Hashemite being the name of the dynasty.

Fortunately there seems to be little danger of this habit spreading to the United States. New York City shows no signs of going back to the old Dutch name of New Amsterdam.

As Pathfinder magazine puts it: "Washington jobholders are alarmed at the Hoover report's threat to their swivel rights."

How To Explain To the Rest of the Crew.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Arms For Pact Nations Part of Defense

THE SUGGESTION of Presidential Adviser Nourse that the cost of arming our Atlantic Pact partners come out of our defense budget makes a lot of sense.

Nourse pointed out that since arms in Europe are defense for us—and that is substantially the meaning of the pact—we ought to be able to deduct those arms from our armament program here.

It is likely that this Nourse argument will have wide support in a Congress which is facing heavy additional appropriations and a falling national income.

The President, as usual following the urging of his military men, denies the Nourse idea. He makes it clear that the Atlantic Pact must be a charge in addition to ERP and the defense budget.

Of course, no one knows what we shall be expected to contribute to the arming of the North Atlantic bloc. No conditions or agreements have been revealed as to what those countries will do for themselves and what efforst they will make to coordinate their own defenses.

Winston Churchill pointed out in his M. I. T. speech what a great factor 80,000,000 members constitute in world affairs. But the fact remains that the brunt of a third world war or the brunt of preparedness against it will fall upon the United States.

Nor is it indicated clearly what the cost of the Atlantic Pact will be. In early discussions the guess was that it would be between $1,000,000,000 and $2,000,000,000. Some have specified the cost at $1,800,000,000. We can take it for granted that it will be $2,000,000,000 annually.

* * *

Contributing Factors.

IN SHORT, and considering the changed purchasing power of the dollar this will amount to about all that the United States spent for its own defense 10 years ago. Adding this amount to our huge defense budget is no light matter.

The Nourse suggestion is especially important in light of the Hoover Commission's report on the defense establishment. A reading of that report makes it clear that at least a billion or two could be saved in the present estimates by more efficiency.

A former secretary of war told this reporter recently that we could, with greater efficiency, secure our present military aims at a cost of $2,500,000,000 less than the $15,000,000,000 estimate.

Much will depend on the course of the cold war. We have launched a series of challenges which seem to be exerting a profound effect on the balance of European power.

The ECA may be more costly than is necessary, but it is definitely strengthening the beneficiary countries. The new Berlin currency is causing violent financial indigestion in the Russian sector.

The airlift has given the West immense prestige in Germany. And the Atlantic Pact is a, stiff warning to Russia that further communist infiltration in Western Europe will be effectively barred.

Russia is screaming protests, but it is doubtful whether she is more likely to precipitate conflict than she was two years ago. If the cold war is not intensified, there may be strong reasons to take the advice of Nourse and to tell the military establishment to save what Europe needs by increased efficiency at home.

Frankly Speaking

Congress and Health

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — At this moment in American history a national health program seems little more than something for debate.

Congress is unlikely to pass such a program this session, even though President Truman has dumped it in Congress' lap once more in a special message.

He's been urging such a program for years and he wants it paid for out of the money taken from people's pay. In other words, a tax.

But his opponents call that compulsory health insurance and they're against the compulsion, they say. They even call it socialism.

Some of them suggest, instead, various programs in which the federal government would pay money to the states to help them do more medically.

That money, of course, would come out of taxes, too, although it wouldn't be a direct tax for medical care.

Mr. Truman and his supporters say the government-aid-to-the-states idea doesn't solve the health problem.

And that, in a nutshell, is where the argument stands and where it is likely to stand for the rest of this session of Congress.

This argument has been going on for years now and the printed meterial giving both sides — material you can pick up around the capital—makes a big armful now.

* * *

All Sorts of Ideas.

A BILL carrying out the ideas of Mr. Truman and his advisors was offered early in this session by Senator Murray, Montana Democrat, and others.

Bills carrying out the other idea, more or less, have been introduced by Senator Taft, Ohio Republican, Senator Morse, Oregon Republican, Senator Hill, Alabama Democrat, and others.

So right there is the evidence that the thinking in the Senate is split wide open.

But now a new bill—a kind of cover-all bill that wraps up all the ideas Mr. Truman expressed in his message—probably will be introduced in the Senate.

This bill would gather together a number of ideas about a health program that have been offered in Congress separately or linked together.

The new bill will take the place of the one offered earlier by Senator Murray. In his message last Friday Mr. Truman outlined this kind of program:

1. A nation-wide compulsory health insurance system, as described above, paid for out of taxes.
2. Federal help for medical schools.
3. More federal aid for building hospitals and other things needed for medical care.
4. More federal help with money to state and local governments for preventing and controlling disease, and other health steps.

How much would it cost? Mr. Truman didn't say. Cost of the Murray program—which was until now Mr. Truman's program—has been estimated at $5,000,000,000 a year or more.

The Taft program would cost the government, some of its supporters say, around $2,000,000,000 for a five year period.

Either plan, or any plan, will cost money. So there are a couple of questions connected with any plan offered: How much will it cost? Will it really take care of the nation's health?

Although the arguments have been batted around for years now, there'll be plenty more of them. But probably little if anything will be done about the problem in the near future.

Dr. Evatt Is For Peace At All Costs

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Keep your eyes on the stubby little man with the gavel in his hand at Lake Success. Herbert V. Evatt, foreign minister of Australia and president of the U. N. General Assembly, is the quiet center of the East-West cyclone. He is not afraid to make enemies for himself in his efforts to make peace.

Evatt used to be the trigger-man in counter-attacking the Soviets. Now he is leaning over backward to be fair, and bangs his gavel to protect the Russians as well as the Anglo-Saxons.

One day last week Evatt refused to let U. S. Ambassador Austin come to the defense of the Atlantic Pact, after Soviet Gromyko had attacked it. Reason: Austin had just spoken on another subject, and Evatt made him wait his turn.

The Australian is a human dynamo, and sometimes a grouchy one. When he rides from the Drake hotel in Manhattan to Lake Success in the Cadillac limousine assigned to him, he sits up front with the chauffeur, writhing with impatience when they get stuck in crosstown traffic.

But he is even more impatient to get the chariots of peace out of the traffic jam. He thinks the big powers have got themselves worked up to a psychopathic state, wants to knock their heads together.

"Doc" Evatt is one of the few persons who know how close the "neutrals" came to lifting the Berlin blockade during the U. N. session at Paris last fall. At that time he got himself called unprintable names for meddling in the cold war.

But if the cold war is thawed out this spring, it will be partly thanks to the efforts of "intruders" like "Doc" Evatt, who hated war more than he hates the Soviets.

* * *

The Diaper Lobby.

YOU can now find registered lobbyists on Capitol Hill from the cradle to the grave.

Beginning at the cradle, the National Institute of Diaper Services of New York retains a lobbyist, Stanley Posner, at $5,000 a year. On the other end of life, William C. Henning of Columbus, Ohio, gets $6,000 for looking after the legislative interests of the American Cemetery association.

Even the family wash gets into the lobbying act through Richard A. Tilden of Washington, D. C., who represents clothespin manufacturers for $100 a day—when he works.

Lobbyists' earnings also vary widely, some working for nothing, while others haul down elaborate sums running into five and six figures.

Thomas E. McGrath, address "General Delivery," Washington, D. C., is the self-appointed, nonpaid agent for an outfit which he calls, "Taxpayers, U. S. A."

This rugged individualist informs Congress in his registration form that he pays all his overhead out of his own pocket—including "thinking" expenses. Burton Clark of Washington, a "retired explorer and university professor," also is a nonpaid spokesman for interests ambiguously described as "strictly personal."

* * *

Big-Time Lobbyists.

HOWEVER, most of the boys who have registered since the 81st Congress convened last January get big folding money. The American Medical association employs several lobbyists with five - digit incomes, including Frank E. Wilson ($12,000 a year, plus $2,400 expenses), and the husband-and-wife firm of Clem Whitaker and Leone Baxter Whitaker, hot-shot West Coast publicists. Together they are paid $100,000 a year to unsell Congress on national health insurance.

Gerard D. Reilly, ex-labor department solicitor and National Labor Relations Board member, makes over $50,000 a year lobbying against certain phases of labor legislation he used to champion. His clients include General Motors ($36,000), the Printing Industry of America ($4,800) and General Electric (salary to be revealed in a later report to Congress).

Other blue-chip lobbyists are Sherlock Davis, who gets $20,000 a year, plus a fancy expense account, from U. S.—Cuban sugar interests, and the New York public - relations firm of Bell, Jones and Taylor, which lobbies for a string of five-and-dime and variety stores.

Bell, Jones and Taylor is paid $10,000 a year by S. H. Kress and Co., $3.000 a year by McCrory stores, plus $100 a day by these and other clients, including the G. C. Murphy Co., keeping tab on legislation affecting retail trade.

* * *

Feuding Congressmen.

THE fantastic feud between crippled Congressman Bob Crosser of Cleveland and GOP Congressman Charles Wolverton of Camden, N. J., over who would occupy offices next to the House interstate commerce committee has finally been settled.

But it took Speaker Sam Rayburn personally and three months of dickering to iron out the dispute. As a result of the delay, there has been a logjam of vital legislation.

Wolverton, a Republican and former chairman of the interstate commerce committee, objected to giving up a choice office next to the committee room. Crosser, his Democratic successor as chairman, claimed this room should go to him. Crosser, who gets about in a wheel chair, wanted to be near committee headquarters.

But Wolverton refused to budge. Finally, Speaker Rayburn had to intervene. He found that on the other side of the committee room was an office held by kindly Rep. Lansdale Sasscer of Maryland, who consented to move to make way for Crosser. So now, ex-Chairman Wolverton has an office on one side of the Committee room, while new Chairman Crosser has an office on the other side.

Washington Calling

Dangerous to Mix Jobs

By MARQUIS CHILDS

THE Democratic national committee has wisely decided that their executive director shall not at the same time conduct a private law practice in Washington. It is affirmation of the ancient wisdom about serving two masters.

William M. Doyle jr. is to become full-time executive vice-chairman at a substantial salary. As a committee spokesman put it, he will "temporarily" give up his private law practice.

The professional politician is essential to the functioning of our system even though the self-righteous citizen who votes once every four years likes to pretend this is not so.

But the professional should be recognized as such and paid a decent wage. In other words, he should not be expected to live by obtaining favors for clients or friends on the side.

It is too much of a tax on the individual, no matter how high his integrity, to assume that he can keep his political influence and power in one air-tight compartment and his law business in another. As was said in this space some weeks ago, that strains human belief.

The situation in the committee was not a healthy one. It was, in part at least, on the urging of Sen. Howard McGrath, who retains the title of chairman, that the change has been made.

A national administration declaring itself for all that is progressive and liberal must, like Caesar's wife, always be above suspicion. Government, as I see it, has to intervene as umpire and even, in special instances, as competitor if the free, competitive system is to remain free and competitive.

* * *

Impartiality Required.

ONLY government can break the stranglehold of monopoly. But at the same time there must be ground rules which all observe. This last was involved in the condition that existed in the Democratic committee.

Doyle's personal assistant during the campaign and since at headquarters has been Merl Young. Young received no salary from the committee. At the same time he was the representative in Washington of the Lustron Corporation at a salary of $18,000 a year. Young is now ending his connection with the committee.

Lustron manufactures a steel and enamel prefabricated house in a former Curtiss-Wright plant in Columbus, leased from the War Assets Administration. As Washington representative for Lustron, Young had to go to the department of commerce about allocation of steel and to many other bureaus and agencies. He says he was careful to disassociate his political duties for Doyle from his work for Lustron.

There is another aspect of this matter that seems to me to deserve consideration. Until his resignation last July, Young was an examiner in the office of loans in the reconstruction finance corporation.

In that capacity he passed on a loan of $15,500,000 that Lustron received in June of 1947 and a second loan of $10,000,000 granted in July of last year. In February of this year Lustron was granted a third loan of $7,000,000 making a total of $32,500,000.

Young left his job at RFC, where he was being paid at the time of his resignation $7,193, to go with Lustron for more than two and a half times that amount. The move was apparently made with the approval of RFC.

This kind of switch-over is becoming something of a tradition and it is a dubious tradition.

There has been recommended to President Truman a plan for revitalizing the department of commerce so that it would be the aider and abettor of small business.

Such a step would be in accord with the campaign pledges of both parties to help small business and new and struggling firms.

That kind of approach would slash the red tape. It would take away the need for a lot of costly overhead that today goes to grease the ways and buy influence.

Farmer's Diary

Mutual Understanding

By CALVIN A. BYERS

THE old farmer had sold his tools at auction, and the man had come to take away the old mower. I saw them load it on the new owner's waiting truck, and I saw that the one who had sold it took great care to tie each knot so that it could not slip away. He went from one side to the other, tying up each loose part, with stubby calloused fingers.

"You've got a good mower there," he said to the younger man. "I've been over every inch of this farm with it, at one time or another — always planned my farm work for a year ahead while I rode that mower and listened to 'er hum. Ever notice that a machine makes music when it's working right?"

The other man — a young stalwart in dungarees — nodded and I saw them exchange a quick bright glance of mutual understanding.

"The wall of grass always falls backward from this mower with a shake and a quiver, as if it had been surprised," the old man said. "Daisies and buttercups give a man the eye as they wither when the sun is hot. I always enjoy the rustle of a drying swath, and there's no perfume anywhere like that of a newmown field of clover. Seems like an old tool that's worked well has more to it than wood and steel. They say a sailor gets to love his ship — maybe a farmer feels the same way about his tools, after awhile."

"He might, at that," said the young fellow slowly. "A guy like you knows lots more than a greenhorn like me. I bought those sheep you had. Now when lambing time comes, next year, I just wonder if you'd come and spend the night and help me learn how to handle ewes and lambs. . .would you do that?"

The old man's face lighted up. "Why, of course — I'll be glad to help out any way that I can. There's a powerful lot of contentment in a warm dry shed where young lambs are getting born right, on a cold stormy night. I like pig litters, too. Sows do better, if I'm right near. Been here fifty years, though, and a man has to quit sometime."

"You oughta see the little new foal that black mare of mine had!" said the younger man, then. "It's big enough now to beg sugar. . .softest little dark muzzle you ever saw, and a white star between the eyes."

The red truck drove off, with the mower securely held. The old man, serene, wore a smile as he turned away.

As Cerf Tells It

The city council of a ritzy California subdivision tried to make a citizen abandon a pig-raising program upon which he had embarked. The citizen, quoting the Four Freedoms, demanded a referendum—and won, 82 to 4. The four "nays" were the city council.

One voter printed on his ballot, "I like pigs a lot better than the city council." Another recalled, "It was pigs that helped build California."

Rumor Alvis Soon to Quit Ohio 'Pen'

Paper Says He'll Go to London Farm

COLUMBUS—(U.P.)—Ohio penitentiary Warden Ralph W. Alvis will be transferred to the London prison farm this summer, it was reported in the Columbus Citizen today.

The newspaper said Alvis will succeed the present farm superintendent, William F. Amrine, who is retiring June 30 because of age. He is 72, two years beyond state retirement age.

Alvis took the penitentiary job Feb. 22, 1948 when former Warden Frank D. Henderson resigned under fire. Alvis at the time was slated to replace Amrine at London and was the latter's assistant. London is the farm where the better behaved prisoners from the Ohio penitentiary are sent.

Alvis replied "no comment" to questions about his status and other state officials refused to confirm or deny the reported move.

There was no indication who might follow Alvis in the post, but it was recalled that one name mentioned in earlier speculation was that of Lester W. Merica, retired Columbus police chief. Merica now is engaged in the real estate business here.

Senior High Retained On Select List

Glenn Rohleder, principal of Mansfield Senior high school, announced today Senior high school has been retained on the list of secondary schools approved by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

Rohleder said he received word today of the action taken by the association at its annual business meeting in Chicago March 28.

The action means the school has met all the requirements of the association, and that Senior high students can enter most colleges without taking entrance examinations, Rohleder said. A few eastern colleges require all entering students to take examinations, he added.

His Second Try

James W. Peyton, 589 South Main street, candidate for the GOP Sixth ward council nomination, said today he is making his second bid for public office. He was an unsuccessful candidate for councilman-at-large about ten years ago, he said. A sketch of the candidate in Saturday's News-Journal erronously described him as a newcomer in politics.

Trading Dwindles, Stocks Sag Slightly On Wall Street

NEW YORK — (UP) — Trading dwindled on the stock market today and prices turned irregularly lower.

At mid-session, most of the leading issues registered fractional losses. These were distributed in the steels, motors, airlines, electrical equipments, farm machinery issues, and building stocks. Rails and tobaccos had a few gainers. Douglas Aircraft ran up 1½ points to 61 on a single transaction. Vanadium ran up 2 points to a new 1949 high.

Transactions in the second hour totaled only 130,000 shares, smallest for the period in a month.

Standard Oil (N. J.) sagged point to 67⅛ despite publication of record profits for 1948.

Speed Pilots Killed In 2 Race Crashes

Deaths Mar Initial Event In California

SAN DIEGO, CAL. — (UP) — The deaths of two speed pilots in spectacular crashes marred the first annual American Gold Cup Air Races.

Bob Heisel, 23, of Gaineville, Fla., and Art Chester, 49, Los Angeles, president of the professional Race Pilots association., and a flier since 1923, were killed in separate crashes 20 minutes apart.

Heisel was circling a pylon in his Pitt Special plane during the semi-final race event when it crashed. Chester's plane, a Chester Special, fell near the end pylon.

Chester, flying downwind, had made the turn when he was caught in his own prop wash. His motor stalled, and he crashed. His wife and young son saw the accident from the stands.

News of Heisel's death was withheld from the crowd by race officials, who announced that he was injured critically. Heisel, father of one child, appeared at the Miami Air Races last January.

Endurance Fliers Bill Barris and Dick Riedel appeared at the show and demonstrated their refueling technique to the crowd, picking up cans of gasoline from a speeding jeep.

Herman (Fish) Salmon, Van Nuys, Cal., won the American Gold Cup when he raced his Cosmic Wind No. 4 around the 24 mile route in 1:14.2.

15 Workers Furloughed

Furloughing of workers has struck smaller plants in Mansfield, company officials reported today.

Fifteen factory employes at the Gorman-Rupp company have been furloughed. However, H. E. Rupp, vice president of the company, said the decrease would not affect production lines.

Rupp said that since the middle of 1948 employment at the company has been maintained above normal to assist the factory in accumulating a needed product inventory. Rupp added that the program has been completed.

One hundred workers were still idle at the Barnes Manufacturing plant where a two-week "inventory period" is being observed. Fred B. Hout, vice president in charge of sales, said he couldn't foresee what the employment picture at the plant would be until the end of this week.

At Westinghouse, 500 employes were dropped from the active payroll today, putting employment back to what company officials termed as "the highest pre-war average employment."

Backs Bargaining On Pension Plans

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The supreme court today ruled that, upon the demand of labor unions, employers must bargain collectively on pensions.

It did so by refusing to hear an appeal by Inland Steel company.

The company had challenged a ruling by national labor relations board that retirement plans are a proper subject for collective bargaining under the Wagner and Taft-Hartley labor laws.

Girl Scouts Enjoy 2 Tours

Eighteen members of Girl Scout Troop 80, of Roseland school, toured the Girl Scout Townhouse and the Page dairy plant Saturday.

At the Townhouse investiture ceremonies were held for two girls who had completed their tenderfoot requirements. Frances Prosser and Marilyn Virkel received Girl Scout pins from Mrs. Forrest Pittenger, troop leader.

Miss Margaret Rooney, executive director, spoke to the girls about the Girl Scout day camp which will be held at Camp Ninivan this summer.

Accompanying the girls were Mrs. Harold Reynolds, troop co-leader; and Mrs. Michael Gaubatz, member of the troop committee.

Probe Attempt To Kill Mayor

EVARTS, KY. — (AP) — State police today were investigating an apparent attempt to kill Mayor E. H. Bailey.

Officers said a bundle of 20 sticks of dynamite wrapped in black friction tape was found under the mayor's bedroom window about 9:30 o'clock this morning. The fuse had burned almost to the cap before it was extinguished, they added.

Police said they had been unable to learn what extinguished the fuse or when the dynamite was placed there. The mayor could not be reached immediately for comment.

KOBACKER'S OPEN TONIGHT UNTIL 9 P.M.

Grandpa told it first. Listen to it again.

"Ned," asked Grandpa, "why don't you mend that hole in your roof?"

"Gosh," Ned said, "how can I when it rains!"

"Fix it when it doesn't rain."

"Well, when it doesn't rain it doesn't leak."

Sad Story

OF THE MAN WITH THE

Leaky Roof

Short-sighted, sure. That's why the story's been told so often. You don't think that way, neither do we.

In sunshiny days, for instance, this company needs to drill needed new oil wells, build larger refineries, improve pipe lines. All this means greater assurance of supply and lower prices to meet your demands. These investments come back to our customers in the form of more products, better quality as you, our customers, have shown that you want them.

This is the "profit system." It benefits you and it gives jobs to thousands. Profits keep everyone going forward.

If the average of sunshine and rain doesn't continue to yield a profit, the whole system stops.

Do you want that?

CHARLOTTE ANNE PURDY TO BE WED ON MAY 28

Luncheon-Bridge Given Saturday at Sky Club to Announce Coming Home Wedding.

MRS. W. W. PURDY announced the approaching wedding of her daughter, Charlotte Anne, to Robert E. Mabee at a luncheon bridge held at the Sky Club Saturday at 1 o'clock. Fourteen friends of the bride-elect were in attendance. The date will be Saturday, May 28, at 2:30 p. m., at the home of the bride, 408 Park avenue west, the Rev. David N. Roller officiating.

Mrs. Robert A. Bartlett of Cleveland will serve her sister as matron of honor, and the niece of the bride, Miss Deborah Jean McNeill, of Kent, will be the flower girl.

The best man will be Kenneth W. Mabee, of Dayton, brother of the groom.

A reception will also be at the home of the bride. It will be a closed formal ceremony.

The date was revealed by nosegays at each place, inside which were placed paper hearts with the names and date.

There were out-of-town guests from Columbus, Cleveland and Marion.

Miss Purdy was graduated from Ohio Wesleyan university, where she was a member of Delta Gamma.

Mr. Mabee is a senior in law school at Ohio Northern University where he has received his B.A. degree. He is a member of Sigma Pi and Delta Theta Phi, national legal fraternity. During the war he served as an ensign in the US Navy for 3½ years.

Miss Walker To Become Bride Of Mr. Castor

Mr. and Mrs. Reed Walker of Shelby are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Lois Eileen to Edward J. Castor, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Castor of Lexington. The announcement was made at a party given by Mrs. Walker at their home on West Main Street Saturday evening.

Seventeen guests were present, and after an evening of games and contests they were invited to the dining room where refreshments were served from a table set with pink and white appointments. The wedding date, June 11th, was revealed on pictures of Miss Walker and her fiance rolled to form tiny candles and placed on the cake.

The wedding will be solemized in the Shelby Methodist church with Dr. J. A. Scott officiating. Closed church will be observed.

Miss Walker has been music teacher in the Lexington School for the past two years and Mr. Castor is cashier in the office of the National Biscuit Company in Mansfield.

Buckeye Hobby Club Sees Fans

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Beeman, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cotsemayer, Mrs. Floyd Messmore and Mrs. M. L. Earick were hostesses for the Buckeye Hobby club meeting and covered dish dinner Friday evening in the YMCA clubrooms. The tables were decorated with bouquets of white narcissis, yellow candles in white holders, small May poles, and each place was marked with a pencil wrapped as a stem of a jonquil.

Twenty-nine members and six guests were in attendance. The business of the evening was conducted by the president, Mrs. Charles Benedict.

Mrs. Harry Princehorn displayed part of her collection of fans. She has seventy in her collection. The history of her fans was told as they were shown.

Mrs. Harold Robson spoke on voting and the methods of different types. An acrobatic dance was given by Sally Zeger from the Battin studios.

The next meeting will be a covered dish dinner May 11. Hostesses will be Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Garber and W. C. Garber.

Juniors To Hold Dinner

The Sarah E. Lewis Junior club held their regular meeting Friday afternoon in Memorial hall. The vice president, Sharon Nelson, conducted the business session under the supervision of the advisor, Mrs. Charles Avery.

Miss Diana Dougherty was initiated and received the obligation of the club.

It was announced that the sixteenth anniversary will be held Wednesday evening in Memorial hall. At this time there will be a 6 o'clock covered dish dinner to be followed by a program and social time.

The next regular business session will be Friday, May 12, in Memorial hall.

Women's Aid Meets At Park Pavilion

Sixty-five attended the covered dish dinner of the Women's Aid of the Pennsylvania Railroad held Saturday evening in North Lake park pavilion. Guests were in attendance from Pittsburgh, Canton and Wooster.

Entertainment was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Williams. Mr. and Mrs E A. Graham were chairmen of the committee for the tables. Those present were seated at T-shaped tables decorated with spring flowers.

The next session will be June 11. This will be a picnic for the families at North Lake park at 6 30 o'clock

Miss Loretta Anne Fink To Serve as President of Group

At the regular meeting in the clubrooms of the Hotel Southern, Miss Loretta Anne Fink was elected the new president of the Epsilon Iota Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Assisting Miss Fink as vice-president will be Miss Shirley Patterson. Miss Doris Crane will take office as recording secretary, and corresponding secretary will be Mrs. George Beck. Serving a treasurer of the group will be Mrs Ralph Kelley. The officers will be formally installed at the formal Founder's Day Banquet to be held at the Richland Recreation Thursday evening. April 28, and will take office at the last meeting in May.

The annual Founder's Day Banquet will be a joint-affair with the Epsilon Tau Chapter of the sorority.

The group acted as hostesses to their husbands and friends when fifteen couples attended a covered-dish supper and square dance on Friday evening at the Liberty Park Pavillion During intermission light refreshments were served and another dance is planned for the near future, the date to be announced later In charge of the affair was the social committee, led by Mrs O. W. Epps, Ralph Kelley and Edwin Sheets

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Paul Lantz, president of the chapter, called upon Mrs. Donald Krichbaum to introduce the speakers for the cultural program. Mrs. Krischbaum first called upon Mrs. George Beck who spoke on "Friends Through Print".

Following Mrs. Beck on the program was Mrs. Ralph Kelley who chose as her topic, "Love of Nature Through Poetry and Poets".

Mrs Krichbaum introduced Miss Marlee Leiter who reviewed Richard Halliburton's "Royal Road to Romance".

The next regular meeting will be held on May 5 at the clubrooms of the Hotel Southern. At that time Miss Fink and Miss Ann Stulpin will be in charge of the program.

Further plans were discussed for the annual benefit dance to be held by the group to further their project of furnishing and maintaining a room at the Tuberculosis sanatorium The affair will be open to the public and will be held at the Richland Recreation on May 21 with Speros Keros furnishing the music for the dance.

Tickets may be purchased from any member or at the door The event will be semi-formal. Acting as chairman for the affair is Mrs. Donald Krichbaum, assisted by Misses Fink and Stulpin

Do You Really Want to Take Off That Ugly Fat?

Recently there have been a number of new reducing preparations on the market, some of them based on the diet and vitamin "plan." It is obvious that vitamins will not reduce the body weight, so one must depend on diet to reduce. But it is also obvious that one cannot go on a strenuous diet over a protracted period, and any weight lost will be restored if the former eating habits are gone back to.

So what to do? Well, here is a tip to you "overweight gals" who want to fight "the Battle of the Bulges" in a different way. Ask any well stocked Ohio druggist for four ounces of Rennel. Mix with 12 ounces of grapefruit juice and take two tablespoonfuls twice a day.

This preparation contains nothing harmful and the makers agree to refund your money on the very first bottle if it does not show you the way to lose ugly fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves.

Rennel is low in cost and is not based on the diet and vitamin "plan." You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Rennel.

Looking Through . . .

The Fashion Spy Glass

Open toes and heels, straps and vibrant pastel colors are the key notes to shoe fashions for late spring and summer this year. Wedge heels have all but cornered the day time market, but for evening there is the traditional closed pump with three and two and a half inch heel. The variation on this number is the two new beautiful colors we've seen it in, palmetto green, which is a soft greyish moss green, and sun copper a very rich coppershade.

Knowing how trying it is to keep even black and brown suede looking respectable we inquired about the shoe polish innovations and found happily a new suede shoe polish in any color you buy your suede shoes. It comes in a liquid form with an applicator and directions and keeps your suedes looking pretty and neat, and out of the shoemakers.

We saw a white linen pump with a three inch heel bedecked with little colored polka dots, neutral as you can find because any color dress you wear will find a mate in one of the polka dots. We were told at this store that they had in stock many pairs of white linen pumps that could be dyed at the buyer's discretion to match any certain outfit. The linen will of course, dye beautifully, and we think it's a pretty good idea.

Spectators are dressier this year, we noticed, trimmed in both black and brown. The ones we saw were closed all around.

Crepe soles are continuing their popularity in play shoes. These come in soft calf in both the lace oxford style and open sandal. We saw one famous make shoe, called "the golden pig" in a lovely light shade of pig skin with a soft elk sole and a gay plaid lining. These are play or every day shoes, made very distinctively with a slight wedge heel.

Reptile shoes are still popular this year and there is a new reptile polish that's guaranteed to keep those shoes in good visiting order. High wedge heels are just as popular as low ones, we understand, and platforms are very fast selling this year too.

We think the dyeing idea is the best thing out this season. We were told that even sandals are going to come in white linen for you to dye any color you like.

For information about where to buy anything mentioned in this column, call Joan Schweitz at the News-Journal.

Gorham-Sunnucks Nuptials Solemnized on Saturday

IN AN OPEN CHURCH ceremony at the First English Lutheran church, Saturday, Miss Harriett Ann Gorham became the bride of James E. Sunnucks. The Rev. C. P. Mitchell officiated for the double ring service. Mrs. George Lincoln was the pianist.

The couple spoke their vows in candlelight, before an altar decorated with palms, ferns and snapdragons. The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Patsy Stirp, was attired in a grey gabardine suit with buttons down the back and a straight skirt. She wore navy blue accessories and carried an orchid on a white Bible.

Her only attendant was Miss Elaine Pugh, a close friend, who was dressed in an orchid suit, fashioned with a full jacket and buttons down the back. She wore black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The bride's mother wore a navy blue suit and accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a two piece green dress with brown accessories and a corsage of white carnations and yellow roses.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Edgar B. Keirns, of Lexington. She has been living at 406 Orange street. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Sunnucks, R. D. 3.

Howard Sunnucks, a brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Gerald Crawford of Ontario, a close friend, and Hay Smith of Ontario, served as ushers.

A reception for 100 guests was held immediately after the ceremony in the church parlors. The table was centered with jonquils, snapdragons, sweet peas and a three tiered wedding cake topped with a tiny bride and bridegroom. Mrs. Richard Hunt served the cake and Mrs. Lincoln poured.

For her wedding trip, to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore her wedding suit. After May 1 the couple will reside at 47 Blanche street. The bride is a graduate of Springfield high school and is an employe of Ohio Brass company. The bridegroom is a graduate of Springfield high school and is a photographer for Westinghouse Electric corporation.

Out-of-town guests were present for the wedding from Findlay, Shelby, Rittman and Rowsburgh.

MOTHERS' CLUB

Roseland Mothers' Club will meet in regular session Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. in the school cafeteria. Mrs. P. Miller will be in charge.

Garden Study Convenes at Hout Home

"Flower Arranging for the American Home" was the topic given by Mrs. George Hout at the Garden Study club meeting Friday at the home of Mrs. O. G. Place, 100 Glenwood boulevard.

Twenty members and one guest, Mrs. Eugene Linham, were present for the 1 o'clock salad luncheon, which was served at small tables decorated with bouquets of sweetpeas. Mrs. R. R. Martin conducted the business meeting.

Mrs. Hout told the group that the kind of house you have influences the kind of container you should use. "Older houses should use antiques," the speaker said, "while modern homes should use glass and plain glazed pottery for containers." Mrs. Hout explained that in some homes Mexican goblets and dishes and Chinese ginger jars or tea bowls can be used to make interesting containers.

"Choose the container to fit the place where you plan to place your arrangements," the speaker suggested, "and use the container that is in keeping with the type of flowers you have available".

During the remainder of the meeting, a plant sale was held. The next meeting will be a 1 o'clock luncheon at John Todd park, May 13, with Mrs. L. D. Bower, serving as hostess.

Miss Audrey Ann Campbell Wed In Closed Ceremony

BUCYRUS — Miss Audrey Ann Campbell, daughter of Mrs. Hazel Campbell, 127 East Charles street, became the bride of Donald Paul Bogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bogan, North Robinson, yesterday in a double ring, closed church ceremony at the First Methodist church.

The officiating pastor was Rev. J. P. Cordero. Paul Frederick Gearhart of Capitol University, Columbus, presided at the organ. The church was decorated with candelabra, palms and two beauty baskets. The bride was attired in an aqua crepe street length dress with pink accessories. She wore a corsage of white gardenias and feathered carnations.

Mrs. L. C. Kinn, a close friend of the bride, served as her matron of honor. She was attired in a pink crepe dress and grey accessories. Her flowers were Talisman roses and blue hyacinth. The bride's mother wore a navy print dress with tan accessories. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in a black print costume with white accessories. Both wore corsages of sweetpeas and other pastel flowers.

Raymond Bogan, the bridegroom's brother was bestman. E. J. Kafer, brother-in-law of the bride, and Charles Campbell of Columbus, brother of the bride, served as ushers. A reception was held at the home of the bride for thirty-five guests, immediately following the ceremony. A three-tiered white wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom, centered the table.

For their wedding trip through the southeastern states, the bride wore a grey glen plaid suit with navy accessories and a pink coat. They will be at home after May 1 at 127 East Charles street.

The bride is a graduate of Bucyrus high school. She has been employed at the Dominion Electric company in Mansfield. The bridegroom is a graduate of North Robinson high school. He served with the Army for three years. He owns and operates the Galion Armature company in Galion.

Out of town guests were present from Springfield, Marietta, Mansfield, Columbus and Lima.

Horoscope

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE
For Tuesday, April 26

It may take some very rigorous rationalizing to sidestep snares, pitfalls and strange adventures or contacts on this day, beset with dangers from hidden sources. Fraud, duplicity, curious entanglements may undermine honest performance, largely because of susceptibility to schemes, to oversensitive feelings, emotions or idealism. Menacing situations call for level-headed and realistic performance, with sound tactics, tangible efforts.

For The Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are urged to build up a sane, realistic and practical program if circumstances are to be sidetracked. Such undercurrents or hidden factors demand an open, shrewd and straightforward course of action, since there are curious conditions, in which it might be easy to be toppled over by idealism, peculiar leads, eccentric emotions, feelings or drives, in which duplicity, betrayal and schemes could prove a delusion and a snare. Beware of all forms of subtle temptation, however beguiling.

A child born on this day may be an easy victim to craft, duplicity and delusions. Its own eccentric feelings or emotions, even its ideals might be detrimental.

LAST SESSION

The Wittenberg Women's guild will hold their last meeting of the year this evening in the First English Lutheran church. The short business session will be conducted at 7:30 with a social hour to follow. High school juniors and seniors will be invited to hear John Beachman, alumni secretary of the college. Mr. Beachman will also show colored slides of the campus.

BANQUET PLANNED

The Mother and Daughter banquet of the Woman's Society of World Service of the Evangelical United Brethren church will be held in the Johnsville church May 5. Those planning to attend are to bring sandwiches and a covered dish. Mrs. J. W. Larson of Mansfield will be the speaker and Mrs. Dorothy Brum will be the leader for the meeting.

For a bridge luncheon serve popovers filled with creamed chicken and add a salad of asparagus vinaigrette on salad greens. The dessert might be be a fruit cup and crisp chocolate cookies

WANTED: Glamor Jobs

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
(AP Features Writer)

Every little girl is presumed to go through a period during which she is determined to be an actress, just like little boys at some point are determined to be cops or firemen.

But being an actress is just one of the so-called "glamor professions" nowadays. The others include radio, television, modeling, advertising, book publishing, magazines and—you should pardon the expression—newspaper work.

Every one of them presents a united front to discourage young hopefuls from trying to storm their portals. This is probably caused by necessity and the knowledge that there are invariably more ambitious youngsters wanting in than there are jobs to fill.

The movies have been trying for years to tell people about their slim chances of being "discovered," and citing statistics to show one's slim chances of even eating regularly while waiting for the big break. Now along comes the federal government itself with some statistics to show that unemployment in radio is many times greater than it is among the working population generally.

Newspaper jobs have been tight for a long time, and it's a tough racket to get started in. The same holds with magazines and books. Advertising always has more applications for jobs than there are jobs around. Modeling is probably the hardest of them all to break into.

All this is very discouraging to youngsters fresh out of high schools and colleges.

The bulk of the girls buckle down and learn typing and shorthand. Tradition says that these two items are indispensable for a young woman with her way to make in the world. And she reasons, if I've got to make pot-hooks and get out the boss' mail, why shouldn't I start doing it in some phase of activity that has been sold to me as romantic and glamorous?

They are right, too. I think that the fault lies in the fact that no one has gone to much trouble to make many of the other fields of business attractive. What's the matter with insurance—except the name? Or banking?

It' a probably a good thing most people do not take discouragement in their stride and believe what's told them.

But the main point is that there should be more emphasis on the advantages found in all the many types of business young people will find. The simplest way to attract the beginning employes would be to dress jobs up in the fancy trappings which lure them today toward the ones referred to by the women's magazines as "glamor jobs."

The trappings are only bait anyway. Once you've got your teeth in a job, you haven't much time to contemplate what a wonderful creature you are.

I can speak personally only about newspaper work. And newspaper work, the movies to the contrary, consists of pounding a warm typewriter, and spending plenty of unglamorous hours in libraries, waiting rooms and in interviewing lots of dull people. Lots of jobs in unglamorized fields of endeavor would be easier on the feet, fingernail polish and produce much more regular hours.

Senate Votes Tonight On Civil Defense Corps for Ohio

Plan Seeks Armed Unit 'In Case'

House to Act On Re-development

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Ohio's Senate votes tonight on an emergency plan to create a state civil defense corps "just in case."

The corps would be set up under the adjutant general with an 11-member defense advisory council approved by the governor. Counties and cities would have local defense units.

"This isn't anything to cause alarm," said Sen. Joseph W. Bartunek (D - Cuyahoga), cosponsor of the measure. "It's insurance against eventualities, including enemy action.

"It took us two years during the last war to get our civilian defense system working. We shouldn't be unprepared again.

"The Ohio National Guard might be called away in event of hostilities. That would leave the state unprepared to cope with bomb damage, paratroop invasion or subversive action.

TAKE NO CHANCES

"With communists announcing they are ready to welcome a foreign army, we shouldn't take chances. This plan will give us an organization to call on should the need ever arise," Bartunek told newsmen.

The measure proposes creation of a civil defense section in the adjutant general's office. Advisory council members would get expenses but no pay for their services. The governor would be empowered to requisition needed arms and equipment for the corps as available from the U. S. armed services.

Co-sponsor of the proposal with Bartunek is Sen. Tom V. Moorehead (R-Muskingum). It is one of the many Major measures to be considered during the legislature's 16th week of work. Both Houses convene at 8 p. m.

The House called up for action Tuesday a proposal to permit city re-development of blighted areas. The bill bearing the names of 16 sponsors is a combination of several proposals on the controversial subject.

Committee hearings during the week are scheduled on bills to authorize toll super-highways, a Lake Erie-Ohio river conveyor belt line, tighter coal strip mine control, pre-primary nomiating conventions, sanitary sewer districts, a gross sales tax, election law changes and the $650,000,000 Lausche budget.

Back to Old Ways

COLUMBUS — (UP) — The first time Mrs. Maralee Frost, a library employe, used the library elevator, a fuse blew and she was trapped between floors for 35 minutes. Mrs. Frost says she will walk up the steps in the future, as she did previously.

Clothing, Cash Stolen

Theft of money from a rooming house and clothing from an unlocked car near the Pennsylvania railroad station, was reported to police during the week end.

Ralph Cicala of Elyria, a visitor at 141 West Fifth street, told police $60 was taken from his billfold between 3:15 a. m. and 10 p. m. Sunday. Cicala said he left the billfold on the dresser in the room and the room was locked when he left. Police said they were holding a suspect.

Theft of $52.50 worth of clothing from the auto of Fred Dalton jr., 122 East Fourth street, was reported to police late Saturday. Dalton, an employe of the Pennsylvania railroad, said he parked his car opposite the station, at 4 p. m. Saturday. Dalton said he had not locked the car.

A lost billfold, containing a $105 pay check and $56 in cash, was reported to police last night by Adolphus Sloane, 228 North Franklin avenue. Sloane told officers he did not remember where he had lost the billfold.

Friends Wonder Why

Marriage Expert's Own Home Life Cracks Up

By KEN DAVIS

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Many couples who owed their happy married life to Dr. John F. Cuber are wondering why the professor's own marriage went on the rocks.

It seemed impossible to these people that the man who handled their troubles so deftly as head of the Ohio State university marriage counseling clinic could misfire with his own home life.

Dr. Cuber didn't explain. "I have no comment," he said.

His wife, Esther, moved to dissolve the 17-year union in a petition to the Franklin county court of domestic relations. She asked a divorce on grounds of neglect.

She didn't expand the charge. Her attorney said he anticipated an uncontested suit so details were not necessary.

Acquaintances could only speculate. They wondered if Dr. Cuber had become so engrossed in salvaging other couples' home lives that he forgot to salvage his own.

Dr. Cuber stressed the long hours and multiple worries of the life of a marriage counsellor in a story written for a magazine a year ago. That was in April, 1948—about five months before the university established its marriage clinic as a student service.

The OSU sociologist came to the school in 1944. In addition to serving as a full professor, Dr. Cuber since that time had acted as a marriage counsellor privately. Hundreds of persons from Columbus and central Ohio have sought his aid in righting their marriages.

In telling of these case histories, Dr. Cuber explained that a marriage counsellor does not counsel from his own experience or from his own feelings. He uses a scientific approach, based on his study of human relations in sciology, psychiatry, psychology.

And, Dr. Cuber was frank in admitting that some marital situations had degenerated to such a state by the time they reached him that only divorce could bring an answer.

"It is like calling the doctor so late that there is nothing left for him to do but to make out the death certificate."

Dr. Cuber further warned against taking marital problems to friends or office buddies and expecting the proper solution.

"Many times," he said, "this makes a case of the blind leading the blind over the abyss."

The sociologist shunned capsule advice on marriage. Only by conferences with both parties and earnest dissection of the situation, Dr. Cuber felt, could the root of martial evil be dug out and done away with.

He urged early summons of a scientific expert in human relations. Since Dr. Cuber was the preeminent authority in this field in Columbus, his own troubles found no suitable expert handy.

Friends said the trouble in the Cuber home had been brewing for some time. Four days before Mrs. Cuber filed for divorce, the professor resigned his clinic post. He said he had accepted a visiting professorship at the University of Southern California.

To make the situation even more ironic, Dr. Cuber was almost prophetic unwittingly when he wrote that magazine story a year ago. After describing a typical day in the life of a marriage counsellor, Dr. Cuber wrote:

"There was the winding drive homeward up the Olentangy river road where the peaceful country side makes it difficult to realize that in Franklin county more than 10,000 homes have been broken up by divorce in the last five years.

"One wonders, too, how many of the houses with the blinking lights will escape the epidemic in spite of the occupants' best efforts. All of this, however, does not seem to worry my big woolly chow, "Butch," who waits to greet me. His chief concern is that he gets his walk through the woods along the river.

"As we make that nightly trek, the toils of men and women caught in the web of marriages which they do not understand and cannot handle seem very, very far away.

"But, they will be there tomorrow."

Tomorrow came just one year later.

See Insects Big Problem

CLEVELAND — (INS) — As far as Ohio's farmers are concerned, the state's "phony" winter brought as many problems as benefits.

According to the U. S. weather bureau, the fall and winter seasons have been milder than any other comparable period except that of 1931-32.

As a result, farmers may be plagued by ravaging hordes of insects and difficult plowing conditions and, conversely, be blessed by bumper crops.

Claude Hummel, agricultural economist of the Fourth District Federal Reserve bank in Cleveland, said the insect threat, however, may be eliminated if April and May are comparatively wet.

Cites Dangers Of Isotopes

CHICAGO — (UP) — Frequent medical examinations should be given all industrial employes working with radioactive isotopes, Dr. Rex H. Wilson, medical director for the B. F. Goodrich Co., warns.

Refering to the increased use of radioactive materials in industrial research, Wilson said "there is no pain or other sensation whereby persons can learn whether they have been exposed to ionizing radiation."

He recommended the use of either small pocket ionization chambers which sound a warning when too much radiation occurs, or sensitive badges made of film which could be developed at the end of each day to determine the amount of radiation to which each person has been exposed.

Old and Amiable

BOSTON (UP) — When 102-year-old Mrs. Muriel Salisbury was called as a witness in a damage suit, her first words, addressed to the judge, were, "Gold bless you."

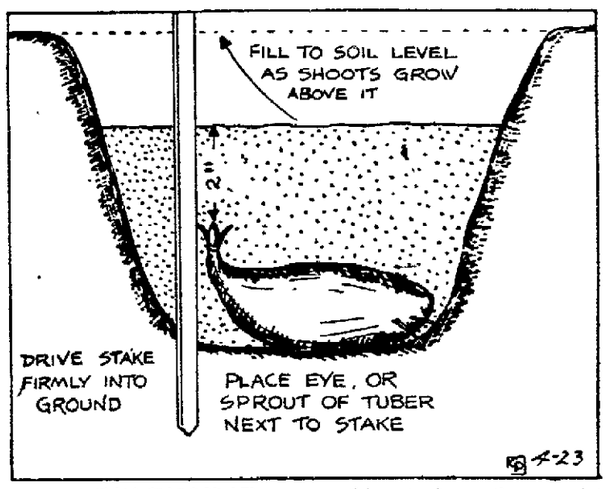
No Work, No Eat

ZANESVILLE — (UP) — The easy post-war days are over and from now on county relief clients will be on a "no work-no eat" basis for help. Relief Director Dewey Wortman said all able-bodied persons obtaining relief will be required to spend some time on two work projects.

Only three Americans who did not serve as President have their pictures on U. S. bills—Benjamin Franklin, Alexander Hamilton and Salmon P. Chase.

Today's Garden Graph

The Right Start for Dahlias



By DEAN HALLIDAY
(By Central Press)

The correct way to plant a dahlia tuber is to plant a stake first. Then when the plant sends shoots above ground its support is already in place and the stalk can be carefully tied to it.

Each stake should be set firmly in the ground, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. Next plant the tuber horizontally, six inches deep, with the eye, or sprout, next to the stake, and pointing upward.

At first cover the tuber with only two or three inches of soil. As the shoots grow, add soil gradually until the surface level is reached. The shoots should be above ground level before the final fill in.

Never plant badly shrivelled roots; soak them for a day or two in a pail of water to restore them somewhat. Small tubers will give just as good results as large ones, and sometimes better.

Tubers can be planted any time after May 1, and through June. To encourage sprouting, place the tubers in a moderately warm place, sprinkle them with water and cover with burlap or anything to keep them moist.

Do not water the tubers at the time of planting. When the stalks are a foot high and later when the plants are in bloom, they need an abundance of moisture. Lack of water results in puny flowers and a short blooming period.

When planting tubers in rows, space them three feet apart. After the plants have started growth, cultivate around them every week. At the start cultivate to a depth of several inches, afterwards only deep enough to maintain a dust mulch.

College Sells Adam Books

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—(UP)—An unidentified purchaser has bought the R. B. Adam collection of 18th century literature, known as one of the finest of its kind in the nation.

The sale was announced by John R. Russell, librarian of the University of Rochester.

The collection, originated by Robert B. Adam of Buffalo, has been on deposit at the University of Rochester for the last 12 years and has been used as basis of study by students of 18th century literature. In 1929, the Oxford University Press published a four-volume catalogue of the library.

The collection, made up of more than 3,000 rare and precious volumes, will be transferred to its new owner "within a few weeks," Russell said.

The works of Dr. Samuel Johnson, including original manuscripts, letters, autographs, notes, first editions, special issues and unusual printings, make up the major part of the collection. In addition to a two-volume first edition of Johnson's dictionary, published in 1755, the library includes Johnson's hand-written draft of the dictionary's plan.

A notebook in which James Boswell, Johnson's famed biographer, scrawled records of meetings with Johnson and books owned by Boswell, Charles Lamb and William Cowper also are in the collection.

1750 Model Runs

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (UP)—George L. Baldwin believes he carries the nation's oldest watch still in use. It was made in London in 1750 and is still running. He inherited it from his Scottish-born great-grandfather.

Families Stay Home

Guerrillas Keep Philippines Tense

By SPENCER DAVIS

PHILIPPINES — (AP) — All is far from peaceful in this central rice bowl of the Philippines, Cabanatuan.

Readiness for trouble is evident on all sides and already violence flares sporadically.

Recent incidents include the ambush murder of a police chief, wounding of four civilians by a grenade thrown by a drunken soldier, death of a Philippine scout of the U. S. army in a mass holdup, and alerting of this provincial capital of 55,000 against possible attack by marauders.

Driving over the countryside less than 10 miles north of Manila, one finds villagers thronging the roads by day. At sundown all roads are clear. The few travelers drive at high speed.

Philippines constabulary and temporary police, all heavily armed, stand guard in even the smallest villages.

Families keep close to their homes. Many have dug foxholes beneath their stilt-legged nipapalm huts.

What is the reason for all this? Why, this is "Huklandia," the stamping ground of the outlawed, communist-led peasants called "Bukbalahaps." The name is Tagalog for "People's anti-Japanese army." It was organized during the war to oppose the Japanese, and kept going afterward in opposition to the Philippines government.

The people fear the Huks, the civilian guards and the soldiers, and the bloody clashes that come when one group meets the other.

Last fall and winter the constabulary mounted a stiff campaign against the Huks. The government had attempted previously to make a deal, offering amnesty if the Huks would surrender their arms. Mutual distrust was too strong, and the peace talks broke down.

Then the soldiers and temporary police, aided by observation planes, armored cars and mortars, slashed into the known hideouts of the dissidents. More than 500 Huks were killed in four months. Survivors fled in small bands east to the Sierra Madre and west to the Xambales mountains. Their leader, Taruc, an avowed communist, went underground.

Late in February, the government ran out of the fund it had used to pay temporary police. The anti-Huk volunteers, who had numbered in the thousands, melted to ten per cent of their winter strength.

Intelligence sources said the Huks began reassembling in March and early April.

There since have been whispers of submarines — presumably Russian — landing supplies for the guerrillas, but both sides have denied this. Nor has a close check by army and civilian authorities borne out stories of Chinese communist reinforcements.

This area is nevertheless tense, expecting more conflict.

In Cabanatuan, capital of Nueva Ecija province, Mayor Sergio Ocampo has alerted his 55 regular policemen and 700 to 1,000 special police for an attack that has thus far failed to materialize.

Gov. Juan Chico of Nueva Ecija has called on the Philippines government to supply arms. He wants weapons distributed to landowners, and in turn to tenant farmers to protect their crops.

The constabulary is reluctant to turn loose more firearms in a countryside that already is suffering because of too many guns.

Visiting the hut of one young rice farmer, this correspondent counted five weapons: a sub-machine gun, a Garand rifle, a carbine with an automatic clip, a Luger pistol, and a Japanese sniper's rifle.

The owner of this arsenal said he was trying to farm 44 acres and wanted only to protect his crop.

"People here are being made to believe that Russians are coming," he said. "We don't know if this is Hukbalahap propaganda or not, but we do know many people are joining the Huks."

He said he felt the situation was worse this year than last, when there was much bloodshed.

Responsible residents of the region agreed with this belief. They said half the normal rice crop would not be planted because of Huk trouble.

At the same time, they feared distribution of more firearms among farmers.
